Foreword

TODAY THE CALL OF AMERICA is clear; it demands courageous thinking and cooperative endeavor to guarantee a secure American future. Aware that Tulsa Central students have a vital interest and share in their country, the 1942 TOM TOM staff has undertaken to show through photography, writing, and art the varied ways in which Central fortifies us for competent adulthood.

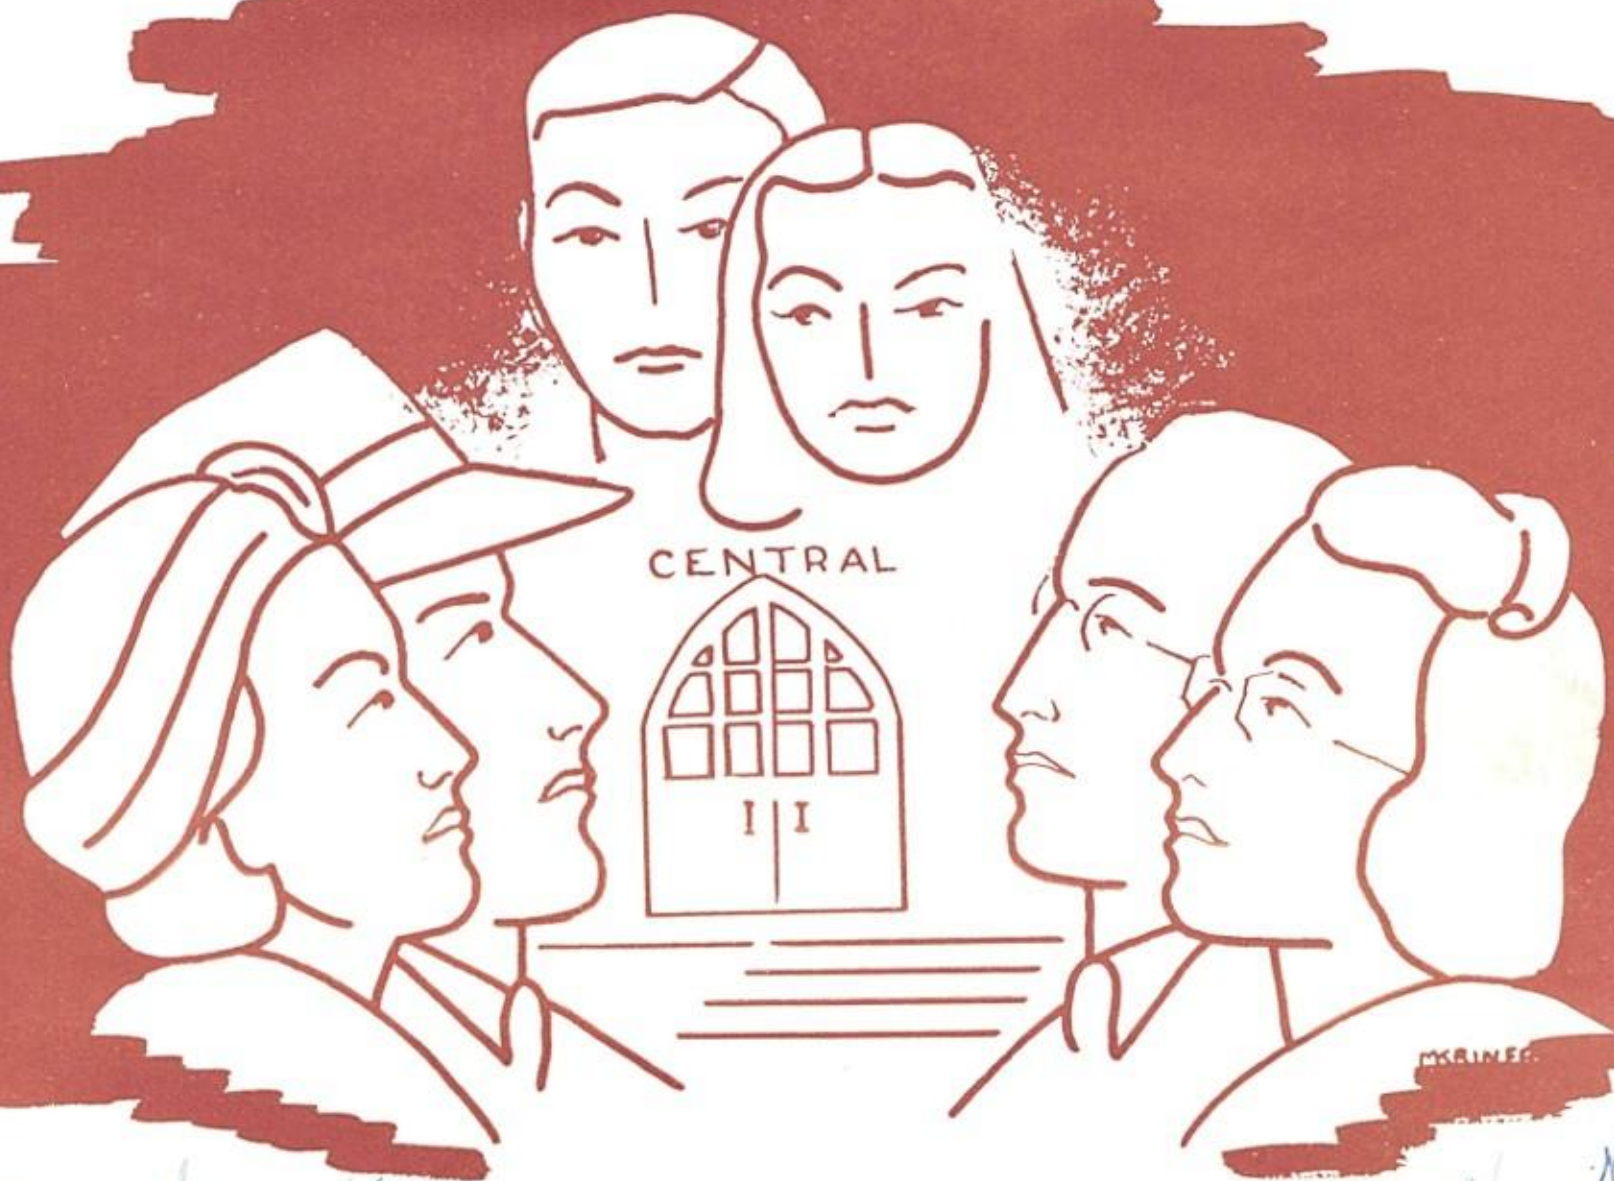

In order to develop our individual talents and personalities by means of practical experience, realistic understanding of problems, resourcefulness, and ingenuity, teachers and students alike are cooperating to forge the sinews of national strength. As a result, we shall be finer citizens in a greater nation and thereby bring credit and honor to the school which has served us in our strength-gaining years.

David -

SENIORS

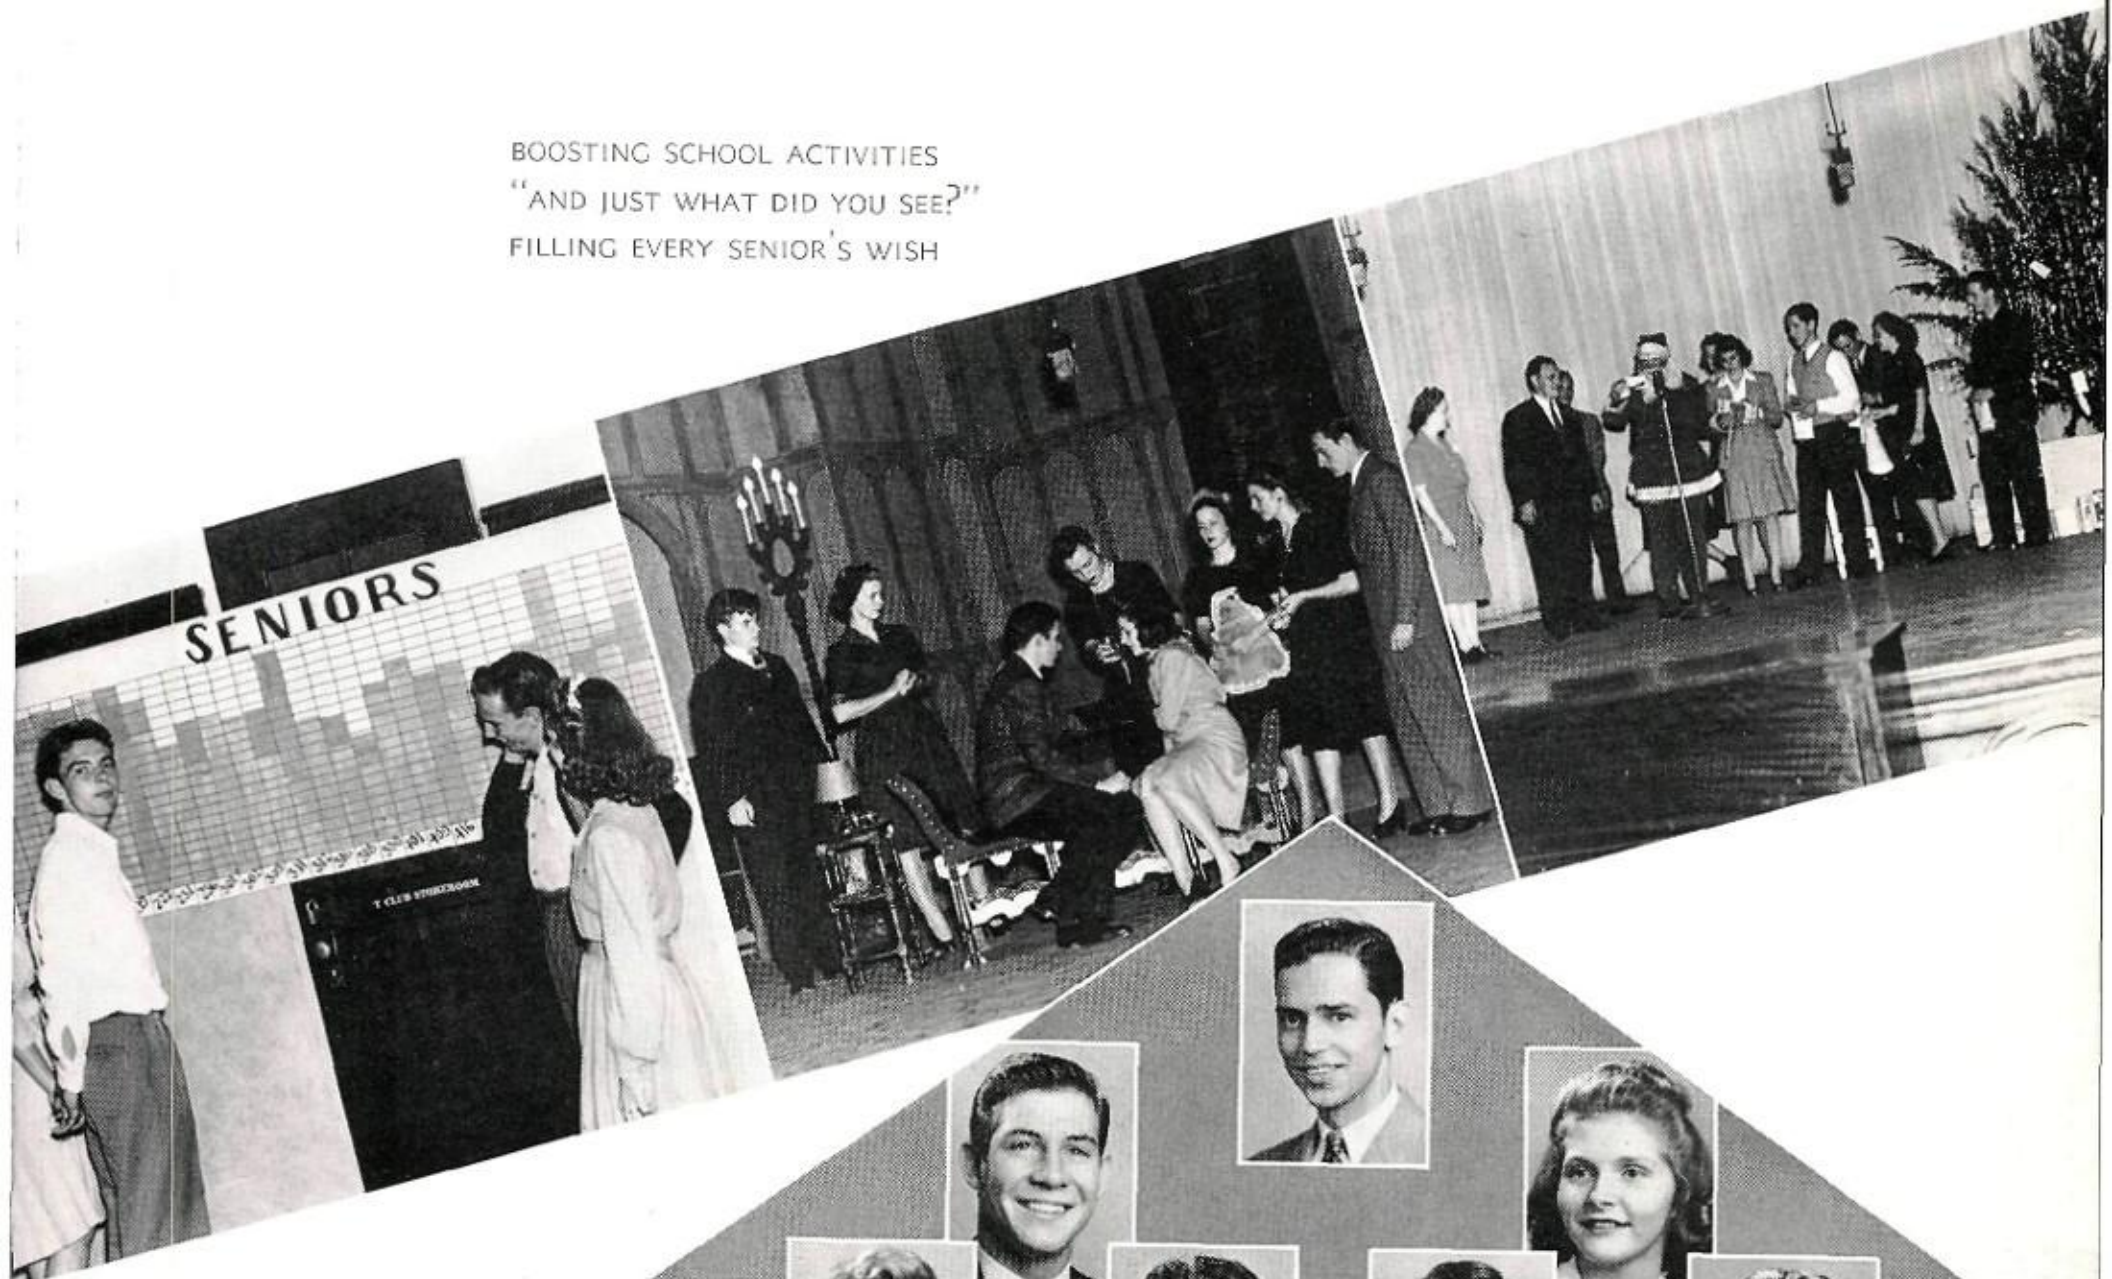

Another chapter, crowded with events and filled with accomplishments, has been added to the records of Tulsa Central by the seniors of 1942. Through a varied school program of classroom and activities experiences Central has provided richly and faithfully for the opportunities and development of her graduating students. The sum total of individual efforts and successes has been ably guided and directed by Miss Beckington, Miss Lomax, and Mrs. Brooks so that the class of 1942 has been a group characterized by progress and achievement.

THE CABINET MEETS
SENIOR ROYALTY IN THE BOXES
"... AND PROMPTLY, TOO!

Although the paths of many seniors may never cross in the future it may be predicted that the training which has been received in Tulsa Central will enable each one to perform his full share in helping to build a greater nation, in whatever sector or type of work he may be engaged. Because they have been active members of the class of 1942 the seniors feel that they understand the duties and the responsibilities which await them, and that they will measure up to the qualities expected of them as American citizens.

Senior Activities

Seniors of 1942 have spent three enjoyable years working and playing within the doors of Central. In their classrooms they have invested their time and energies for the future years through the attainments of knowledge and learning. Through their various group activities, they have taken part in, and, enjoyed as spectators, dramatic productions, sports, and inter-school contests.

Central's upperclassmen entered Central under the competent guidance of their sophomore director, Miss Gertrude Rector. During their first year, What a Life, their class play, stood out among the dramatic productions of the year. Bob Catching was the first president of the class. During the junior year Miss Lulu B. Beckington became their class director. Gene Merrell, the class president, presided over all class assemblies and led the class through an eventful year. Among the big hits of the season were the two junior class plays, Adam and Eva, and Happy-Go-Lucky. As they neared the end of their junior year they realized, when the order for class pins and rings was placed, that finally they were within reach of their goal as a senior.

When Centralites become juniors they realize that they are on the proving ground of student leadership. One year has been spent in getting acquainted at Central. In the junior year they test their abilities and talents in preparation for the managing of the varied student enterprises which are required of high school leaders. Any junior with originality has a chance to show his abilities in the planning and producing of assembly programs and in the activities of the many school service clubs.

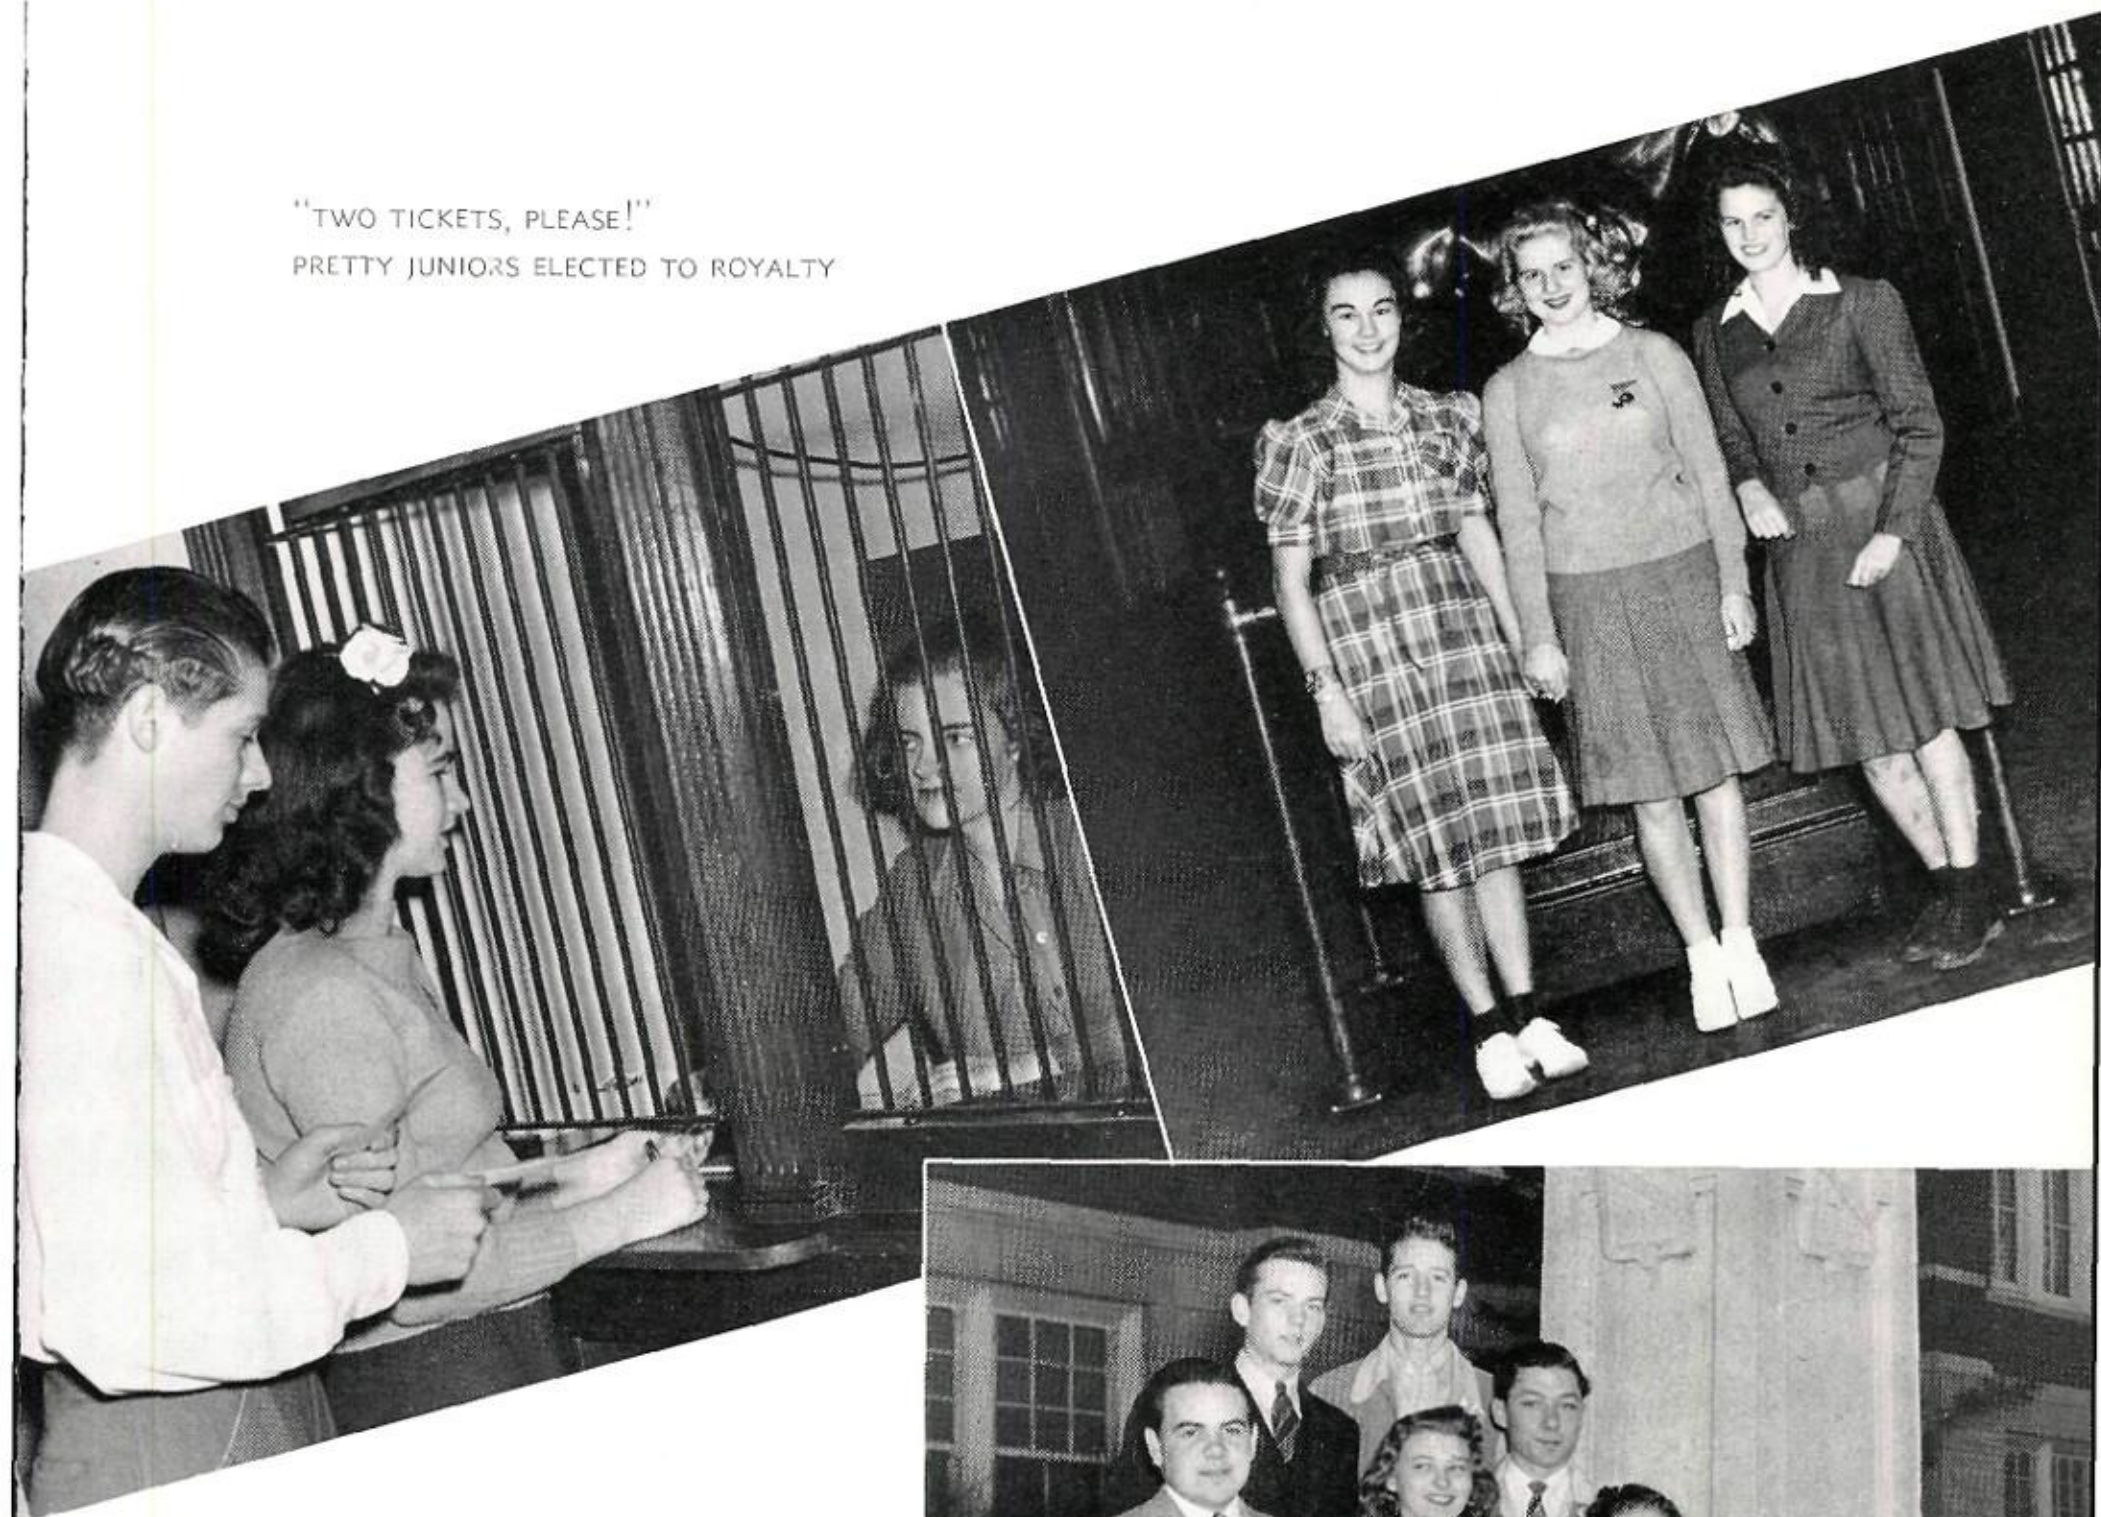

COULD IT BE THIS IS ANOTHER PROPOSAL?
JUNIORS SCORE HIGH ON CHARM

Led by Ruth Anne Conner, the enthusiastic class president, the juniors have shown excellent leadership in selling more activity budgets than seniors or sophomores. They have well earned their name of "go-getters." In the outstanding productions "Peg O' My Heart" and "Charm School" they displayed their fine ability to select, advertise, and produce smash hits. Miss Ednamay Weeks, class director, aided by her capable assistants, Miss Linnie B. Wilson and Mrs. Maude K. Wendt has counselled the class and urged them on to greater accomplishments.

SOPHOMORES

The sophomores who entered Central last September were not an ordinary group. They took an immediate and enthusiastic interest in school activities. They displayed special aptitudes in the class room and in dramatic productions. They have kept their eyes and ears open and are learning what goes on in a successful and wide-awake school. Most school organizations have among their members many active sophomores. They are learning early just what their opportunities and their duties will be in succeeding years at Central.

The sophomores with much pride may review a very profitable and successful school year. With the realization that they have two more years to spend at Central, these bright and ambitious students are ready to take a place in student leadership in all school activities. This experience received in their high school days, coupled with the natural alertness of sophomores, will enable them to assume ever-increasing responsibilities as the strength of the sophomore develops.

The most noticeable gain which sophomores realize from their first year at Central is the development of maturity and poise. The first year has not been a glamorous one. They have come into school definitely as little brothers and sisters. Now it is apparent (especially while visiting their junior high school friends) that they have grown up unbelievably in mental capacities and in actions. They too have established their eligibility and are now a strong and vital part of the school, qualified for unlimited participation in all activities.

Sophomores at Central

Bright-eyed and earnest, the Sophomores this year have done excellent work under the executive directions of their president, Lory Ice. Their interesting Sophomore assemblies have been praised by all who could witness them. With Jeanette Carlson taking the minutes and Pattye Williams looking after the treasury these ambitious underclassmen have made a splendid record.

The Sophomore play, "Robin Hood" met with loud and lingering applause. With Ivanell Lindsay and Clarence Gates, Jr., leading them, the cast for "Robin Hood" received deserved hearty praise from everyone who saw the play.

With Miss Gertrude Rector, and her assistant directors, Miss Maude Lourey and Miss Lela S. Copeland, to counsel and guide them during their first year, the Sophomores have developed a spirit of active leadership and intellectual growth which will serve them endlessly in carving out their future at Central.

Winning the Oklahoma Six Conference football championship for the first time since 1935, and taking over the city title for the third consecutive year, the 1941 Tulsa Braves covered themselves with distinction and added new laurels to Central's glowing athletic record. During the season of play these gridiron stalwarts chalked up eight victories against two defeats, and drove 158 points across the goal while allowing 43 points to their opponents.

Tulsa Central's mighty pass attack started clicking to the rhythm of Van Buren's swing band in the first game of the season and steam-rolled the allegedly strong Arkansas team 40-0. With a strong 165-pound forward wall and a shifty 147-pound backfield, the Braves ran into little trouble, completing twelve out of fifteen passes.

In the second game the Tulsa Braves trounced the Wildcats from Bartlesville 19-0. The first touchdown was scored by Hank Weldon, on the recovery of a blocked kick. The second touchdown was scored by Harold Hall on a 61-yard sustained drive, and Paul Annex added the third touchdown after a completed pass to Gene Merrell. It was Central's game all the way with Bartlesville threatening to score only once.

The Central Braves, entering the anxiously anticipated Rogers game as slight favorites over the heavier Roper team, held Rogers scoreless and came through as victors. The Ropers, starting with their four horsemen, Beam, McDaniel, Siverson, and Baldwin, were overpowered by Central's brilliant passing, kicking, and running attacks. It was a battle from beginning to end with the Braves making a 57-yard drive following the opening kick-off.

At the start of the final quarter while the stadium was shrouded in a heavy mist, on the last down with one yard to go, the Ropers plunged desperately, but the Braves' defensive combination choked the drive on the one-half yard line, and Central took over the ball to win the game.

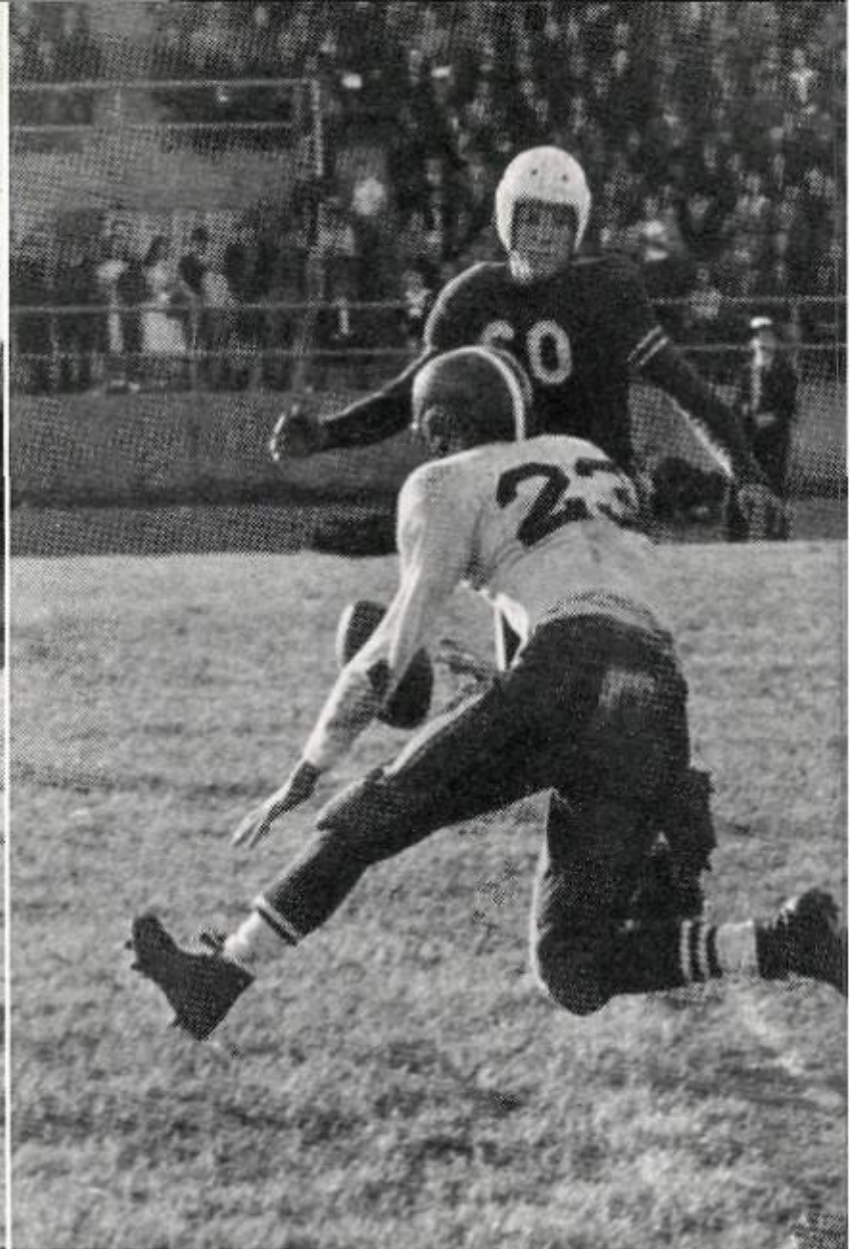

The Okmulgee Bulldogs were rated as an even match for Central's team, but the Braves in action proved themselves alert to take the breaks. Lebow, Okmulgee's triple-threat man, was throttled, and when the Braves started rolling there was little doubt of the final outcome.

In Central's only out-of-state game, the Braves succeeded in ruining Springfield's perfect record. Skirmishing in mud and rain, the Braves emerged victorious, having completed one-half of their 1941 schedule unbeaten, untied, and unscored upon.

Central fought valiantly to keep the perfect record of being unscored-upon but the Sapulpa Chieftains were successful in pushing over one lone touchdown. Aided by the Braves' linemen, the Central backs provided some real excitement with their excellent broken-field running and long passes. The final score was Central 20, Sapulpa 7.

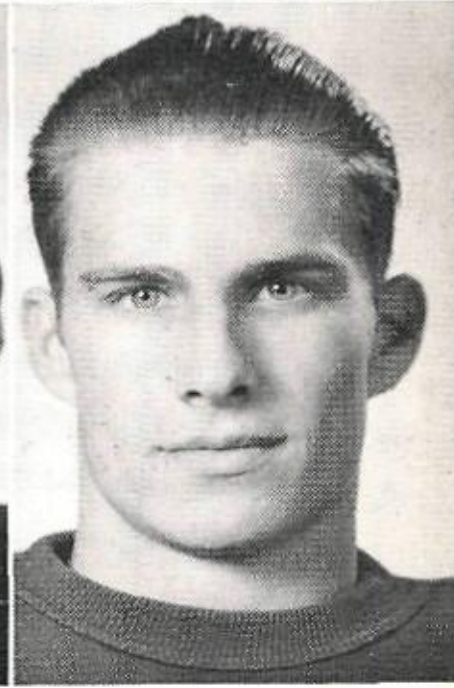

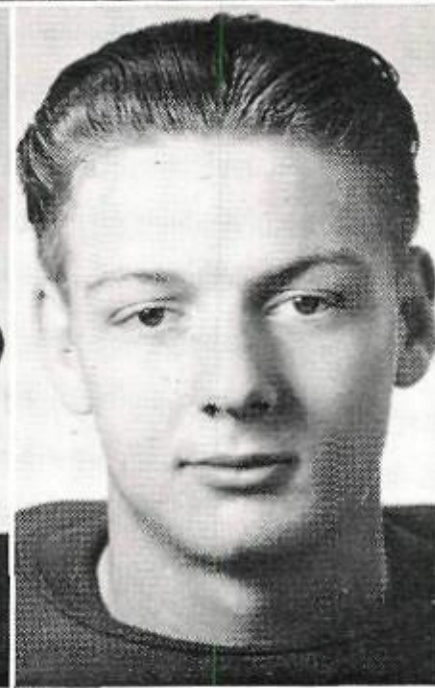

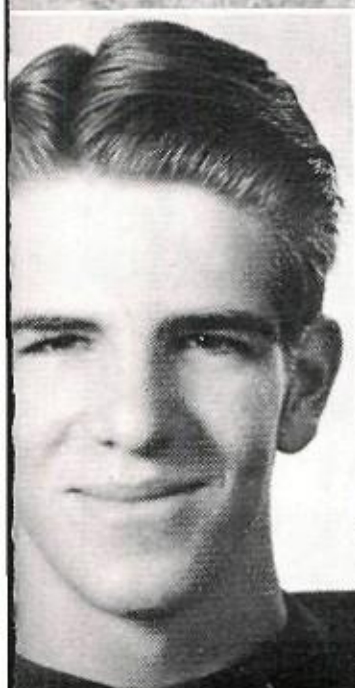

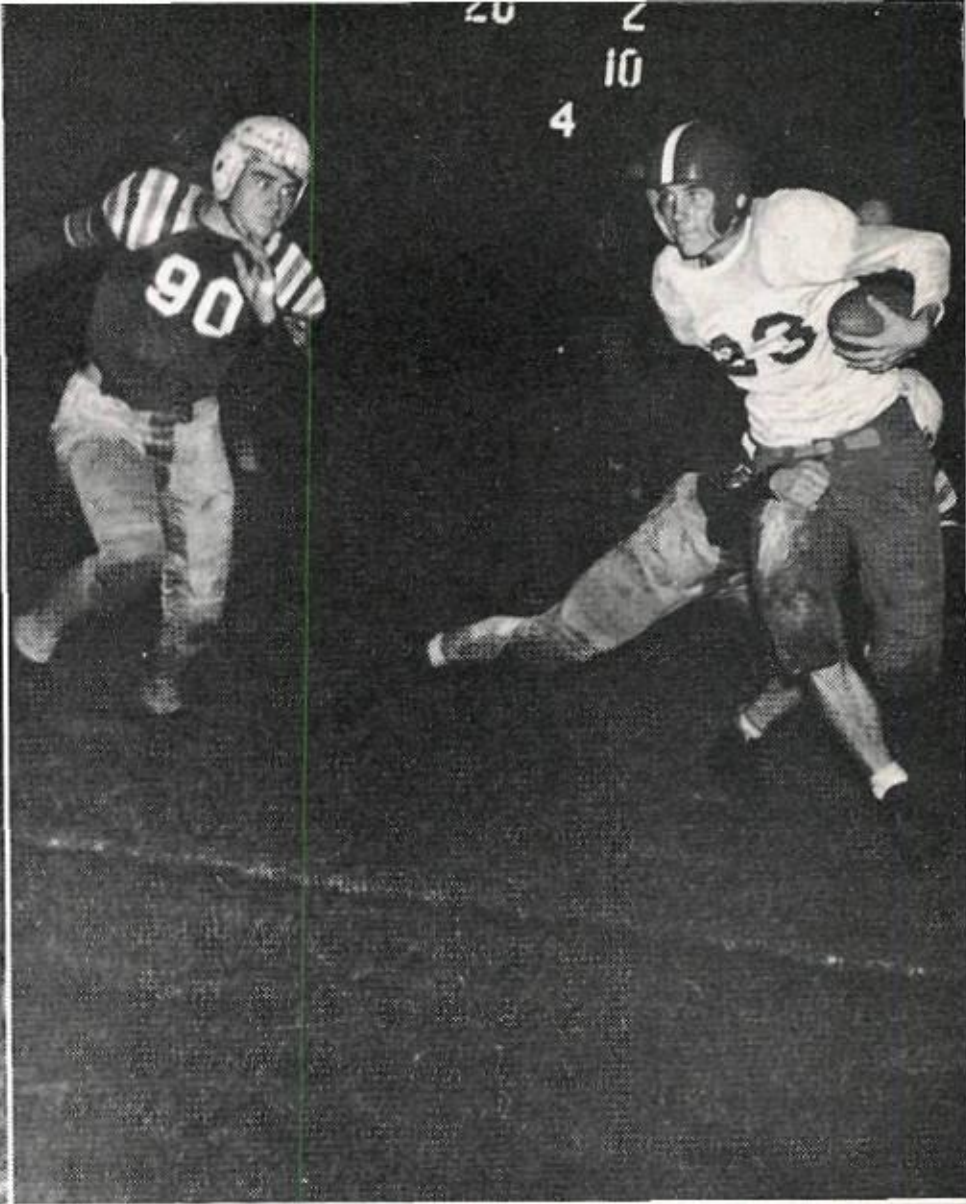

The city and conference championship hung on the outcome of the Central-Webster game. Cold weather dulled the sharp edge of the teams' pass attacks, but the Braves settled down to hard and steady football and repelled all the brilliant attacks of the Warriors. The outcome was Central 12, Webster 0.

The invading Classen Comets roared into the Central Braves' camp with an all-out aerial attack, which kept the Central team on the defensive throughout much of the game. The Oklahoma City champions fired a total of 38 passes. Defending their goal against this desperate passing bombardment, the Braves succeeded in allowing the Comets only one touchdown. Intercepting many of the passes and plunging hard through the forward wall, the fighting Central team displayed that winning power and came through with a 13 to 6 victory.

TACKLE

Forced to yield an initial lead in the Enid game, the fight-to-the-finish Braves surged over the hard-playing Plainsmen in the closing minutes and were partially successful in balancing the score. Although the Central eleven was attacking the Enid goal line as the final gun sounded, the scoreboard showed that the senior team from Enid with a powerful offense and smooth field-generalship had won the game with a score of 23 to 14. This hotly contested game proved to be one of the season's most exciting ones for both the teams and coaches, as well as for the spectators in Skelly stadium.

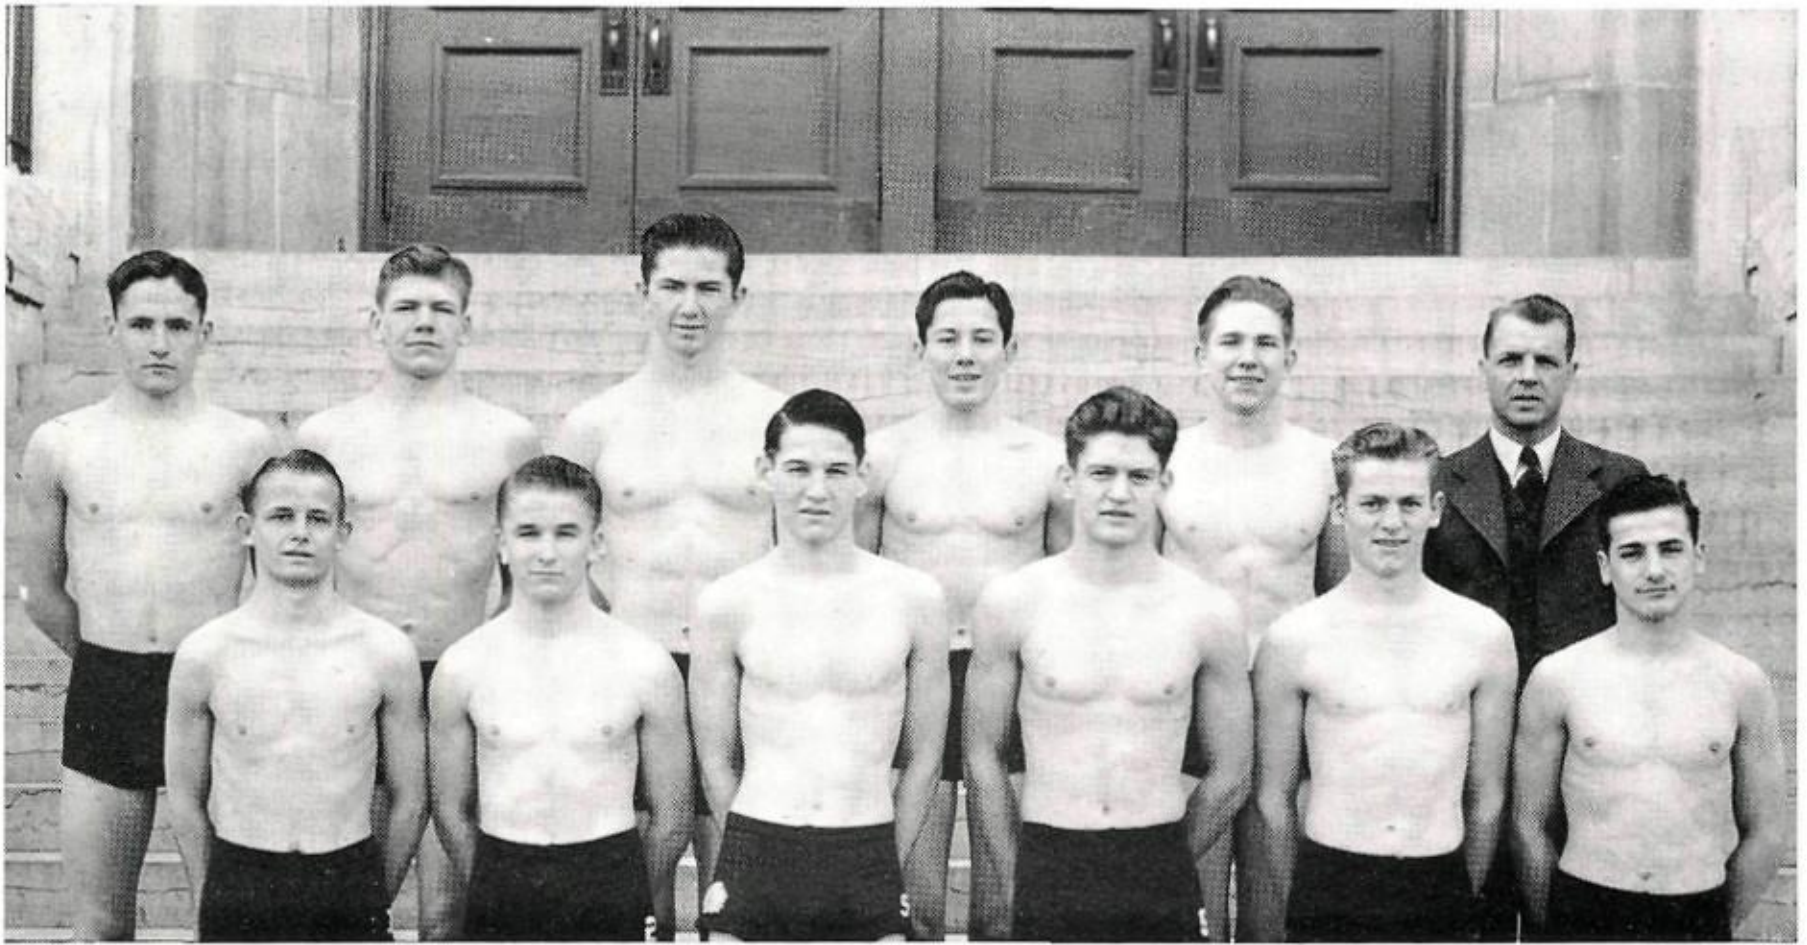

In the last game of the season with Muskogee on Thanksgiving Day, the Roughers took a hard-fought victory from the Braves. Central was expected to score in every period of the game, but every touchdown drive was nullified and when the game ended, the score still read: Muskogee 7, Central 0.

Twenty Braves on the Central squad earned football letters this year. Paul Annex, Tom Miller, and Hank Weldon received all-state mention. Annex also was given the Daily Oklahoman award. The team, coached by Melvin E. Riggs, assisted by Charles Nussbaum, Rex Peery, and Clarence Ehlers, unanimously elected Paul Annex captain.

Wrestling

FIRST ROW—Bob Brown, Bill Curtis, Donald Barnes, William Schwabe, Ira Amstutz, Louie Andrew.
SECOND ROW—George Jackson, Jim Eagleton, Stephen Jacobs, Clarence Armstrong, Frank Friedl, Mr. Rex Peery, coach.

The Central grapplers took their stand against their foes ten times this year. They turned in seven victories, two defeats, and one tie. Both of the losses were in favor of a strong aggregation of Webster matmen, who incidentally, became the first team in sixteen years to humble the Braves on their home floor.

Louie Andrew, Bill Curtis, and George Jackson placed first at the state meet at Blackwell to lead the Braves to second place. They trailed the Webster team, winner of first place by only one point. Central's matmen placed second at the regional tournament at Webster.

Bill Curtis, 120 pounds, and Louie Andrew, 112 pounds, have the distinction of being the only two boys who have gone through the season undefeated.

The Central wrestlers experienced an unusual treat this year when they were invited to wrestle the U. S. Navy Plebes at Annapolis, Maryland. The two teams wrestled according to regular college rules and the boys brought credit to their school by sinking the Navy grapplers 16-14.

Bill Curtis, Central 120-pound ace, was elected captain of this sport by his teammates. Curtis has won twenty-nine consecutive matches in high school competition.

This year makes Rex Peery's second successful year of coaching wrestling at Central.

There were eleven letters awarded this year in wrestling. The lettermen are Ira Amstutz, Louie Andrew, Clarence Armstrong, Donald Barnes, Bob Brown, Bill Curtis, Jim Eagleton, Frank Friedl, George Jackson, Stephen Jacobs, William Schwabe.

THIRD ROW—Bob Burris, Ed Parker, Bill Johnson, John Finley, Kenneth Jorns, John Burris, Bob Catching, Ed Perryman.

Once again the 1941 Braves sailed through an undefeated season in track, guided by the masterful hand of Coach William C. Lantz. At the first of the season there were six lettermen in the relay events and none in the field events.

The Central boys ran off with top honors in three dual meets, six invitation meets, and in the all-city meet with Rogers and Webster.

The fleet feet of the Central tracksters breezed into first place in the Oklahoma Baptist University Relays, McAlester Invitation, Tonkawa Invitation, Okmulgee Relays, Oklahoma Six Conference meet, and the Oklahoma University Invitation. Dual meets were won from Cleveland and Rogers.

The 1941 track team added three trophies to Central's large collection. For their excellent performance the Braves were awarded a statuette from each of the Tonkawa and Okmulgee meets, and a cup from the University of Oklahoma meet.

Twenty-two letters were won in track this year. Lettermen were Bob Burris, John Burris, Bob Catching, Italo DeGiusti, Johnny Ferrier, Walter Ficklin, John Finley, Earl Hanner, George Herod, Bill Johnson, Jimmy Jones, Kenneth Jorns, Joe Letson, Dick McKirahan, Larry Mills, Lee Murray, Edwin Parker, Ed Perryman, Al Price, Bill Reimers, Jesse Sullivan, and Bill Tooke.

Golf

Hugh Klein. Tom Marshall, Jack Tillman, C. O. Roberts, Mr. Charles Nussbaum, coach

Under the able guidance of Coach Charles Nussbaum and the leadership of C. O. Roberts, captain, the 1941 Central golfers went through the season with two wins and one defeat in dual competition. This is the first year that any of these boys have lettered in golf; they made a fine record in both dual matches and tournament play.

The first dual match went to Bartlesville with a score of $9\frac{1}{2}$ to $2\frac{1}{2}$. The Braves won the Okmulgee match $8\frac{1}{2}$ to $3\frac{1}{2}$ and also took the Oklahoma Military Academy meet $10\frac{1}{2}$ to $1\frac{1}{2}$.

In a second match at Mohawk Park golf course, Central placed fourth among the five schools that participated.

In the Oklahoma Six Conference, Coach Nussbaum's ambitious golfers placed second. At the Oklahoma University Invitation meet, the Central Braves drove down the fairways, clearing the bunkers and sandtraps, to place sixth among the seventeen teams entered. The boys ranked third in the state meet in which there were fourteen teams competing. In the intra-city meet the Braves tied for first place with the Webster Warriors.

Five boys lettered in this sport. They were in the order of their ranking, C. O. Roberts, Jack Tillman, Alva Rhodes, Hugh Klein, and Tom Marshall.

Cross Country

Walter Ficklin, George Herod, Jack Culley, Jack Osborn, Jay Braithwaite, Mr. William Lantz, coach

The morning was cool and crisp and the sky was slightly overcast. Seven boys sat tense and full of expectancy as the station wagon pulled into the stadium grounds at the University of Oklahoma. This was the setting for the Oklahoma cross country race.

The race was nip and tuck all the way with George Herod and Walter Ficklin, Central thinclads, and James Woodward, of Oklahoma City Central, fighting for first place.

When the smoke cleared away, Coach William C. Lantz's boys had placed first for the fifth consecutive year with a final score of eighty-five points. Five Central Braves placed among the first ten for the fifth consecutive year.

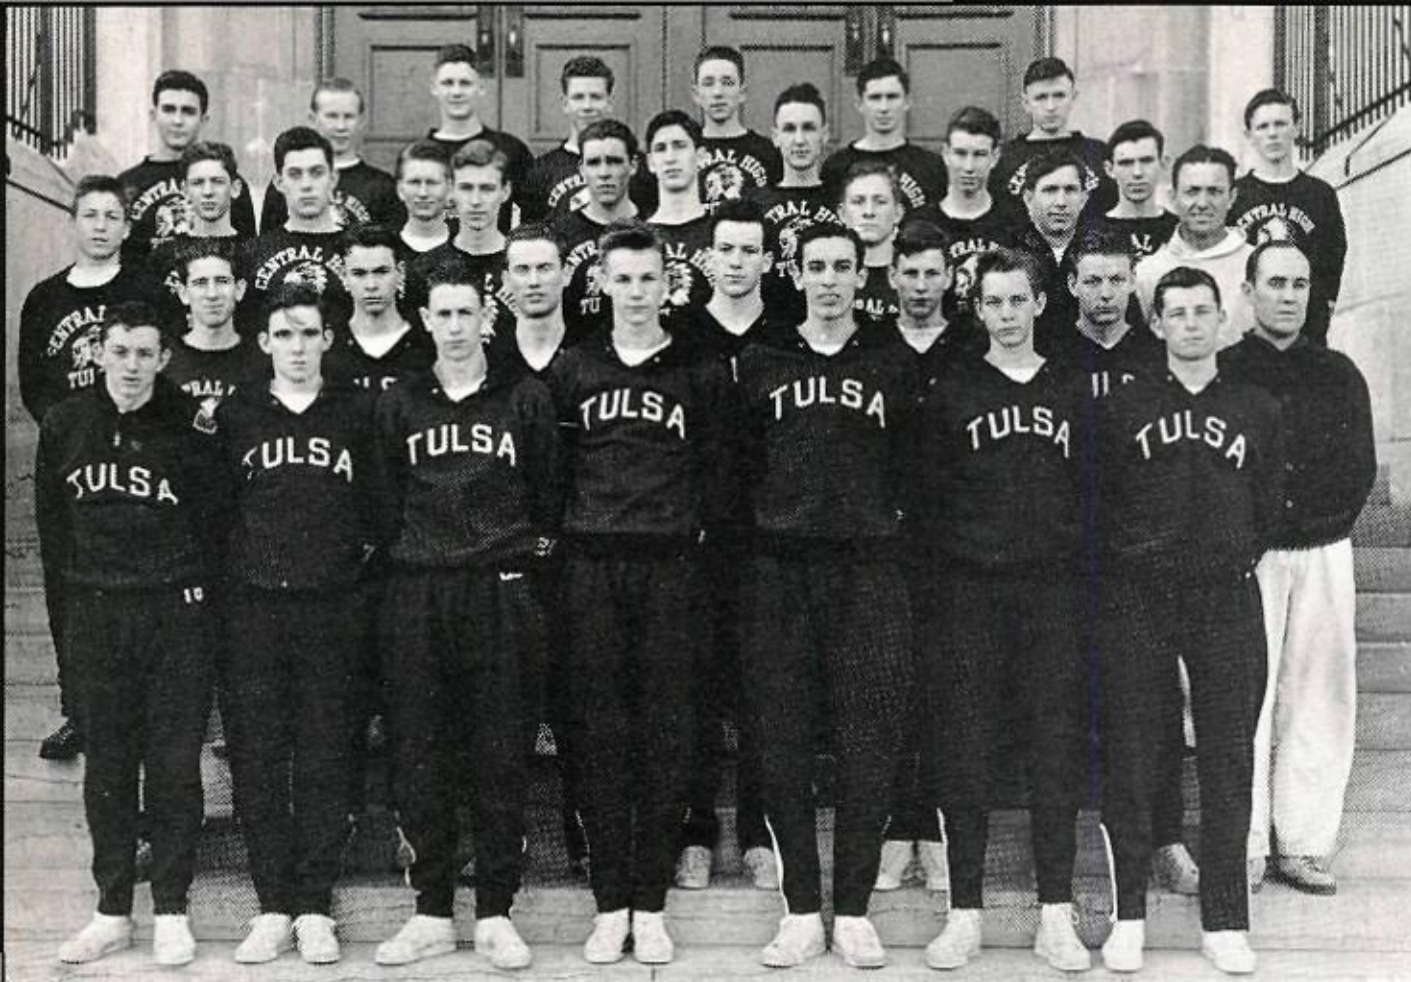

Walter Ficklin and George Herod were running neck and neck behind Woodward when the contestants re-entered the stadium, and on the final stretch Herod nosed out Ficklin for second place in this grueling two-mile run. Jack Osborn placed fourth; Jack Culley, sixth; Jay Braithwaite, tenth; and Bob Kenslow and Bob Smedley, who ran for experience, placed eleventh and twentieth.

Although the Central Braves entered the meet as underdogs, and the team was made up mostly of juniors, Mr. Lantz, a veteran coach, succeeded in producing his usual first class team which breezed into first place.

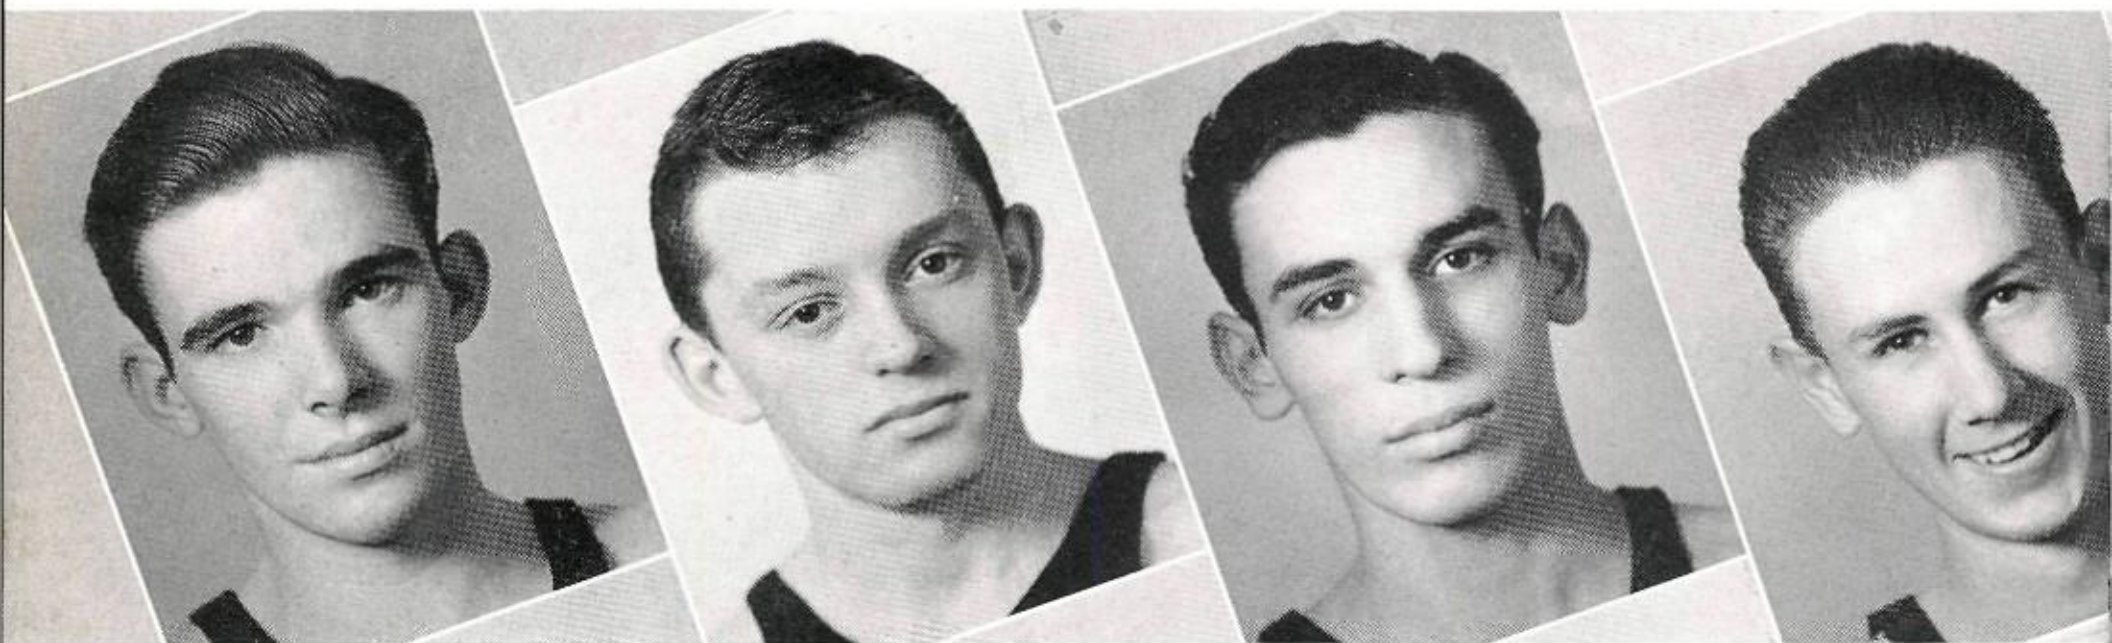

There should be deep respect felt for this hard working team because these boys train night after night from the first day of school. They run over hill and dale and rough terrain two miles each day, just for one meet. Other athletic teams train the same length of time but compete in several games or meets.

This year's cross country lettermen are George Herod, Walter Ficklin, Jack Osborn, Jack Culley, and Jay Braithwaite.

Basketball

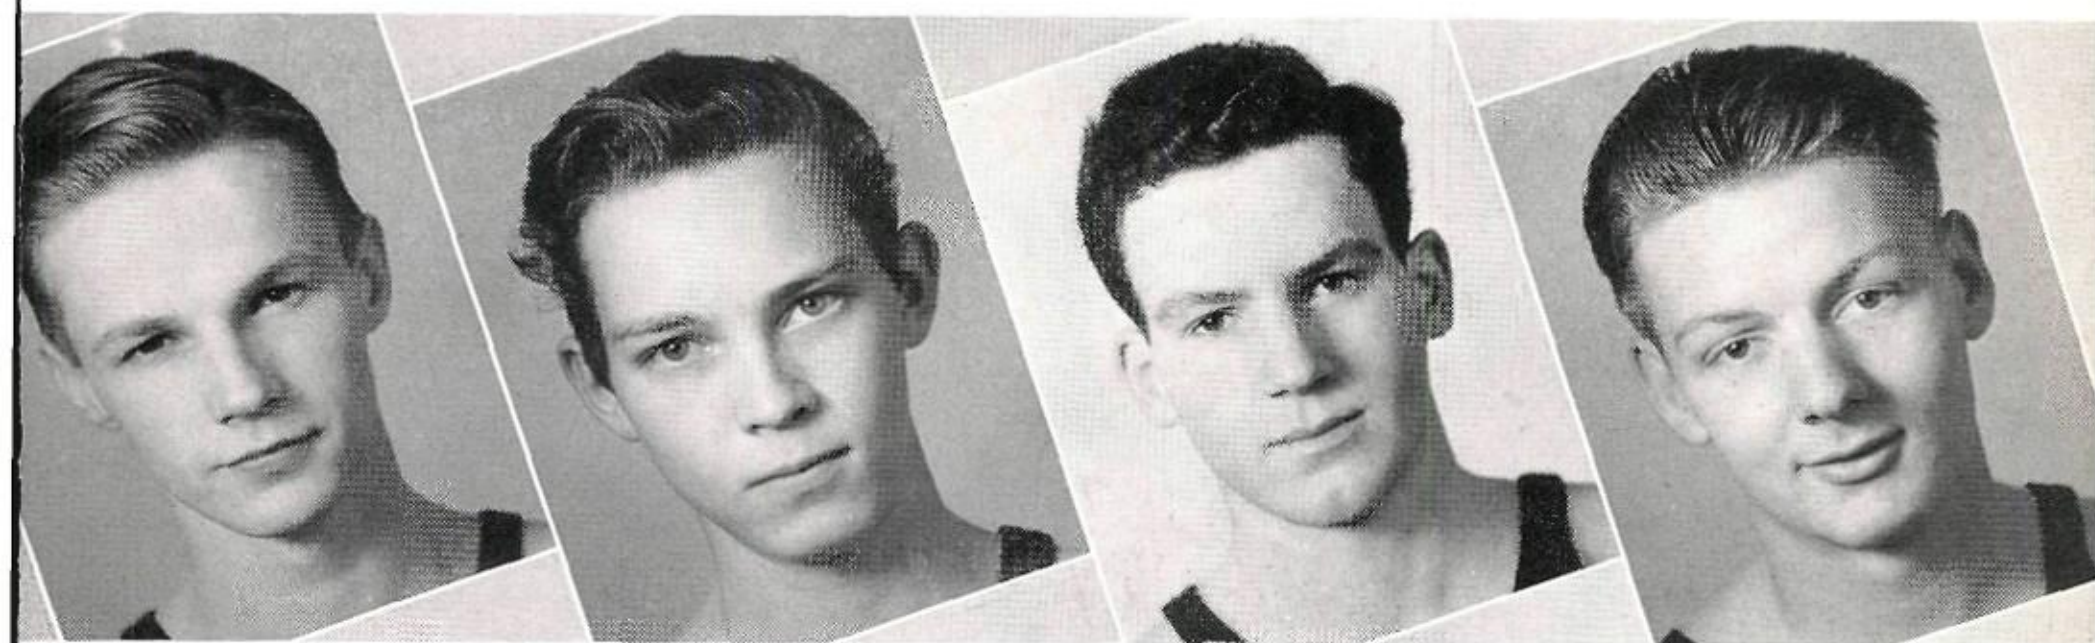

Under the coaching of Grady Skillern, basketball has been a favorite mid-winter sport at Central for many years. This year Clarence Ehlers and Walter Barham became assistants on the coaching staff. Shelly Carrens was elected team captain.

Starting the season with two lettermen, Allen and Roberts, a squad of thirty-one players developed surprisingly fast into a game-winning aggregation. Although losing the first tilt to Bartlesville by one point, the Braves early struck their winning stride, completing the rest of the season with twelve victories and four defeats, including the tournament games.

The Braves piled up impressive scores in the games won, and in those battles in which victory was denied, Central was never more than two or three points from the winning toss.

Central's basketeers won second place in the Oklahoma Six Conference.

Those who were awarded letters this year are: C. O. Roberts, Wallace Tipsword, John Finley, Shelly Carrens, Walter Robbins, Jack Kroll, William Allen, and Carl Lattimore. Allen and Lattimore return for competition next year.

FIRST ROW—Marion Bowen, Jack Paul, Harvey Mizel, Billy Dublin, Bill Gwinn, Paul Neighbors.
SECOND ROW—Mr. M. E. Riggs, coach, Hiram Burney, Bill Moran, Shelly Carrens, Clinton Northcutt, Edwin Bradford.

The 1941 softball team, captained by Jack Paul and coached by Melvin Riggs, succeeded in winning half of the season's games and in placing second in the Oklahoma Six Conference meet.

These Braves continued to bring credit to their school in this newest inter-school sport at Central. The narrow margins of victory or loss in most games, as well as other statistics of the game, reveal how well the boys played the game.

The big batting guns of Central's team were led by Paul Neighbors with a .375 average and there was a total of fifty-five Braves crossing the plate against a total of forty-nine opponents' runs.

The double-header with Rogers was the main event of the year. Central took the first game with the help of the Braves' batteries Bradford and Dublin, but they dropped the second game 6-2.

The Braves' hard working softball ten was greatly aided by such ace hurlers as Ed Bradford, Hiram Burney, and Kenneth Scott.

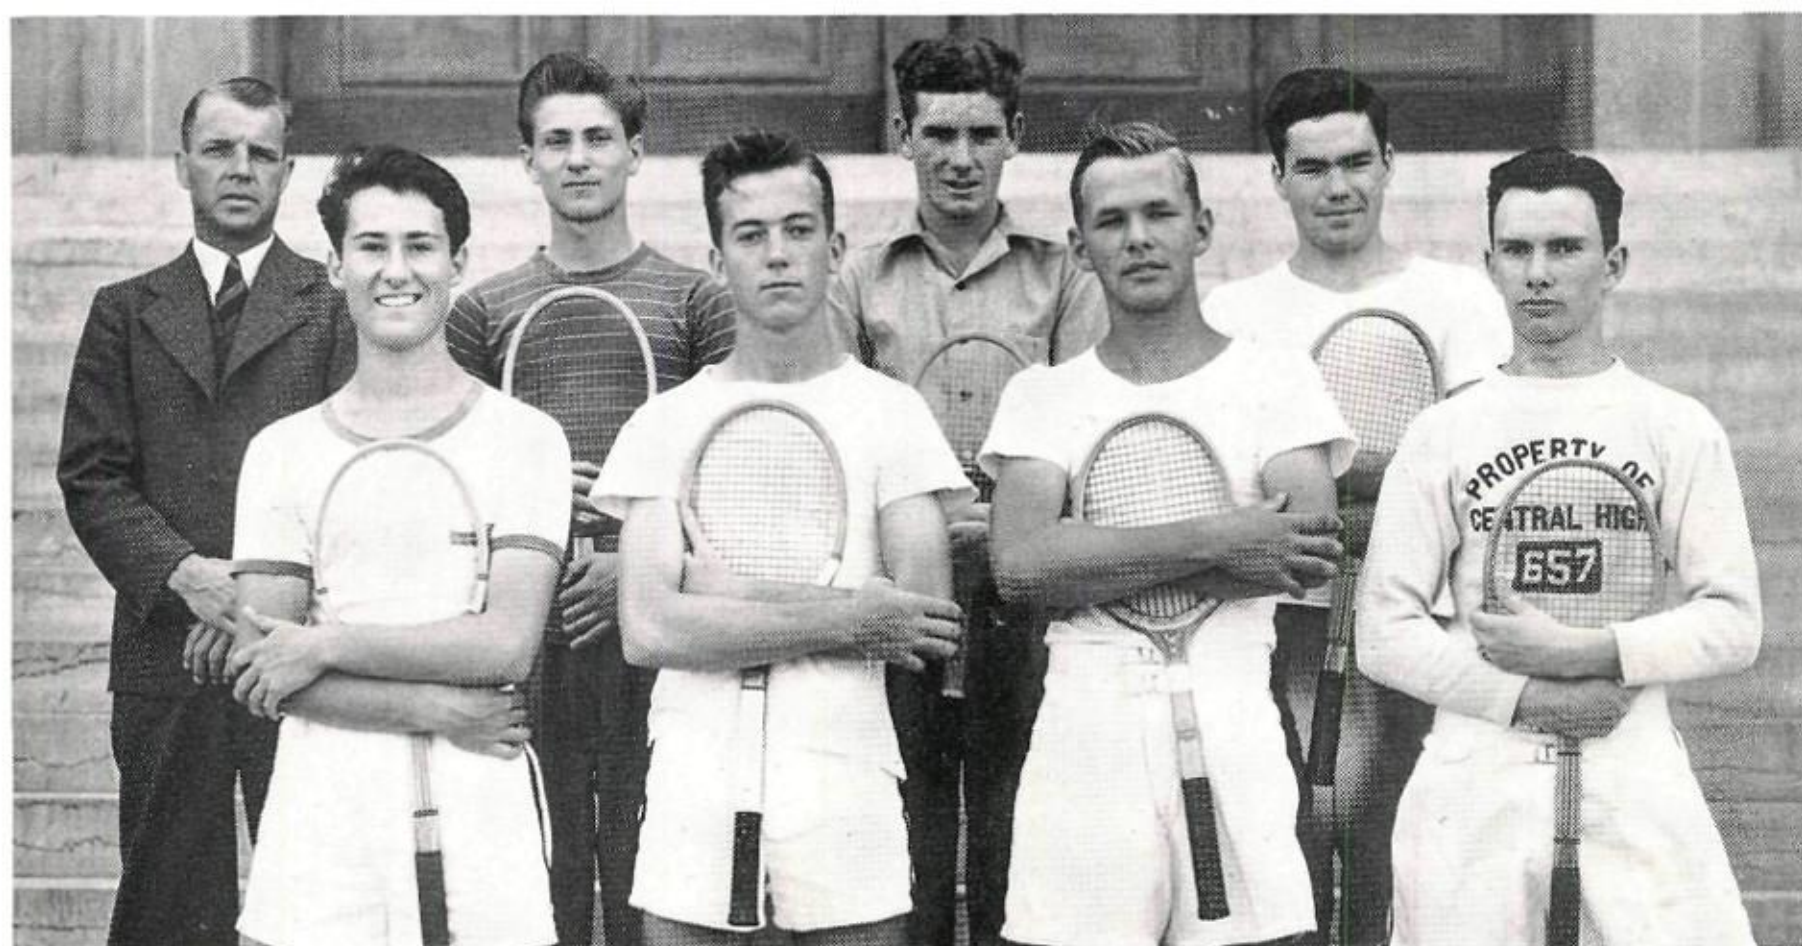

Thirteen letters were awarded in softball this year. They were received by Paul Annex, Marion Bowen, Edwin Bradford, Hiram Burney, Shelly Carrens, Bill Dublin, Bill Gwinn, Harvey Mizel, Bill Moran, Paul Neighbors, Clinton Northcutt, Jack Paul, and Kenneth Scott.

FIRST Row—Roy Traband, Bill Bates, Randall Clark, Bill Meyers. SECOND Row—Coach Rex Peery, Marvin Douglas, Gene Small, Rupert Brooke.

The 1941 tennis team, coached for the first year by Rex Peery, won three out of five of their dual meets and took two firsts and three seconds in state and inter-state competition.

In their first tournament at Winfield, Kansas, the Braves ranked in second position.

Defeats by Rogers' Ropers and the Oklahoma Military Academy team were the only two that the Braves suffered. Both of these teams were beaten by Central during the year.

Almost any day Central's netmen may be seen at Tracy Courts practicing their forehand, backhand, and overhead smashes.

Gene Small was elected captain of this sport.

Of the seven lettermen there were four who received individual awards. They were Bill Bates, winner of a silver medal for second place; Randall Clark, who won two firsts and three seconds; Marvin Douglas, winner of a second place, and Captain Gene Small, who won two firsts and two seconds.

The 1941 lettermen in tennis are Bill Bates, Rupert Brook, Randall Clark, Marvin Douglas, Bill Meyer, Gene Small, and Roy Traband.

Captained by Harold Dershimer and coached by Melvin Riggs, the 1942 swimming team succeeded in capturing the Oklahoma interscholastic swimming title for the fifth consecutive year. Only one dual meet was dropped by the Braves during the season.

The Tulsa splashers got under way by out-stroking the Wichita North team 44-22, winning first place in every event except diving.

In the thrilling Wichita East meet in Tulsa, the score stood 29-30 in Wichita's favor with the 160-yard relay the deciding factor. The masterful finish put on by relaymen Don Leach, Jim McWilliams, Gene Womble, and Jerry Barnett won the relay and set the Braves out ahead 36-30.

Central's hopes of retaining the state crown were realized when the Braves, defending champions, took seven of the eight events and counted fifty points, to win the title in the state meet at Norman. Two previous records were shattered at this meet. The fifty-yard dash record was bettered by Don Leach of Tulsa Central and Russell Gosser of Tulsa Rogers set a new record in the 100-yard breast stroke. However in the final event, Dershimer of Central out-swam Gosser to win the event.

Ten letters were awarded in swimming this year. The lettermen were Jerry Barnett, Bob Bass, LeRoy Beasley, Harold Dershimer, Jack Landreth, Don Leach, Jim McWilliams, Dan Rosenstein, David Womble, and Gene Womble.

The Senate is one of the two divisions of the Student Association at Central. A prevailing thought among the students is to attain some day the position of a Senator. For those who have been elected to this organization, there is no greater pleasure than to attend the weekly Friday morning meetings.

With Jack Bridges ably swinging the gavel, the Senate this year has moved smoothly along. Accomplishments by this service organization stand out among the school's highlights. The pro and con discussions not only result in improvements for the school, but also develop the members' abilities in the operation of a governing organization.

The Senate has made the fairness of the selection of the Daze Board familiar to every student in Central, some of whom were doubtful as to the method of selection.

Bob Evans, E. H. Trolinger, and Bud Baker were among the representatives from the Senate at the annual convention of the S. A. S. G. at Memphis. These boys were selected because of their ability to perform executive duties and to carry responsibilities on their shoulders. Dick McKirahan headed the committee which promoted the sale of national defense stamps. In the first two months of sale more than $1,500 worth of stamps were sold in the school bank.

One of the Senate's worthwhile projects this year was the Victory Book campaign, headed by Sidney Paul, which netted a total of two thousand books. The Senate equips its members to face the future with self assurance and gives them practice in thinking about and doing the things needed in making self-government a strong and successful reality.

House of Representatives

The House of Representatives, with the Senate, forms the student government at Central. The House is made up of representatives from each home room, and, just as in the national government, is the largest, most representative, and most democratic organization in Central. The members of the House are students of high scholastic and citizenship standings.

The House has completed a successful year with Luther White keeping order in the meetings of the sometimes noisy, but always sincere representatives, with Peggy Zinn violently taking minutes, and with Davy Vincent asking over and over for payments for Tom Tom pictures.

One of the highlights of the year was the Southern Association of Student Government convention in Memphis, Tennessee. Mrs. Minnie May Summers and five members of the House attended this convention of representatives from fourteen southern states.

House of Representatives

The experience in parliamentary law gained through meetings of the House will prove invaluable to these future statesmen. Even to those not planning political careers, a better understanding of our federal government is given. For members that attended the Oklahoma convention of Student Government at Bartlesville, a better knowledge was gained in the solutions of student government problems in high school.

In the meetings on alternate Thursday mornings at 8:10, many bills are introduced by representatives desiring only improvement in Central's government. This opportunity to participate in the governing powers of a democracy gives the future citizens strength to cope with future problems.

School-wide attitudes are formed in the meetings of this representative body, and, through the active interest in the home rooms, the purpose of promoting student participation in school activities is accomplished.

THIRD Row—Mrs. Minnie May Summers, sponsor, Ivanell Lindsay, Mary Gebhart, Rinda Philp, Betty Joe Young, Mary Brenner.

The purpose of the Girls' League is to promote friendlier relations among its members, to develop social poise, and to encourage individuality.

It provides an opportunity for girls in each class to meet each other, as each girl enrolled in Central is an active member. The league is divided into three separate organizations: sophomore, junior, and senior. Each group elects its own officers. This year Ivanell Lindsay, Pat Shaffer, and Shirley Hawthorn, with the help of the league sponsor, Mrs. Minnie May Summers, directed cabinet meetings in which assembly programs were planned.

The league has completed its seventh successful year under the supervision of Mrs. Summers. Included in its many activities have been distribution of Christmas contributions, cooperation with the House of Representatives during Friendship Week, Mothers' Day telegram sale, and featured speakers on assembly programs.

In answer to a popular demand and need for a service organization to enforce school regulations, the Courtesy Service Club was organized in 1925 with Mr. L. W. Lavengood as sponsor. Since then the club has been sponsored by Mr. F. J. Reynolds, Mr. J. B. Erwin and Mr. M. M. Black. This year Mr. D. E. Temple, assistant principal, has taken over the club sponsorship.

This organization is composed of students selected for their splendid community spirit and scholastic records. Students may become members either by application or invitation. The hard-working C. S. C.'s receive one-half credit each semester. In order to receive this credit, the member spends at least four hours each week enforcing school regulations and guiding visitors and new students through the maze of corridors.

Courtesy Service Club

FIRST Row—Ravaughn Spencer, Sue Faulkner, Frances Paris, Julia Stone, Mary Lou Smith, Mickey Vassar, Sally Barber, Betty Lou Hardin, Dorothy Caldwell. SECOND Row—Fred McCann, Don Palmer, Dee Rippey, Paul May, J. D. Olsen, Val Jean Dent, Earline Pratt, Emma Lou Summer, Bob Kilgore, Mary Rose Ragland. THIRD Row—Raymond Branson, Robert Blakstead, Chester Garrett, B. G. Williams, Bob Donnelly, Jack Eastman, Brady Steil, Bill Martin, Ralph Stodghill, Virgil Reese, Mac French.

This organization offers two advantages to students: they may carry on their normal school work and, at the same time, are afforded an excellent opportunity to meet people and cooperate with associates.

The high standards maintained by the members of the Courtesy Service Club may be visualized as one reads the purpose and the goal they have set for themselves in their constitution: "The purpose of this club is to render service to our high school; to promote good fellowship among students and between students and faculty members; to develop qualities of leadership and to insure high ideals in student affairs; and to encourage and promote student participation in school government." With such standards it is natural that each member should become a finer person in a better school.

FIRST Row—Betty Gordon, Jerry Eakin, Wanda Faye Cates, Frankie Griffin, Peggy Mitchell, Mildred Asher, Sue Hawk, Lorraine Williamson, Delores Shaw. SECOND Row—Billie Jean Robertson, Ellen Franklin, Alene Martin, Alma Oliver, Gerry Bartley, Earlene Eslick, Judy Fleming, Louise Hale, Nola McKnight, Georgia King. THIRD Row—Eugene Carter, Lloyd Stone, Jerry Carman, Maurice Beck, Naomi Wing, Vivian Rolen, A. C. Booth, Dick Daugherty, Roy Rogers, Bill Ewing, Sam Seabolt.

When Elizabeth Alspaugh has tapped the table with her gavel and Colleen Robinson has read the minutes, another meeting of the Courtesy Service Club is under way. In these meetings, held in the north auditorium during home room on alternate Fridays, the trials and tribulations of the members are discussed and remedied if possible.

The officers of the club are elected each year before the close of school. Those chosen for 1941-42 were: Elizabeth Alspaugh, president; Keith Overmyer, vice president; Colleen Robinson, secretary; Dick Daugherty, senior senator; Robert Kilgore, junior senator.

The six captains were chosen by the assistant principal. Their duty was to check the attendance each hour. The captains were: Robert Kilgore, Sue Faulkner, Bill Martin, Everette Brown, Ruby Lee Sparks, and Dick Daugherty.

Speakers Bureau

With Bud Baker leading the group this year, Speakers' Bureau has made itself outstanding in the activities at Central. The bureau has provided a ready medium of speakers for assemblies, home room canvasses, the annual Daze, and civic organizations throughout the city. The members take a very active part in the promotion of the Daze. From the bureau have come many producers and star performers.

The aim of this organization is to train students in the art of public speaking, and to give them self confidence and assurance to speak before an audience. The ability to speak well before an audience, which is in itself a valuable trait, will enable a person to apply that feeling of confidence to other things, things that go into the shaping of the future.

Advertising Board

Advertising Board members gain valuable experience through their membership in Central's super-selling organization. Members, selected purely on a basis of their personality, interest, and ability, meet every Monday morning to plan sales campaigns and good times.

This year board members led by their two-year president, Jim Alexander, and Mr. J. Roy Inbody, salesman-sponsor deluxe, have given freely of their time, energy, and initiative to make financial successes of such projects as the activity budget sale, Parent-Teacher Association membership drive, Student Aid Fund, speech arts and class plays, and the all-school Daze Militaire.

One of Mr. Inbody's "bright-ideas" was utilized this year as secretary Connie Osborn kept a chart to show at a glance the record of every member. The board has proven itself invaluable in strengthening Central's position in the community.

Girls' Athletic Association

The Girls' Athletic Association offers to each girl the keen enjoyment of companionship and the knowledge of wise use of leisure time. It was organized to promote higher physical efficiency and to emphasize true sportsmanship among the girls of Central. It creates interest in every girl to take part in outdoor and indoor health-building activities, including both competitive and non-competitive sports. This organization strives toward the happiness of others, toward making each girl a finer person, physically, mentally, and socially.

The G. A. A. girls participate in a varied field of sports, some of which are swimming, tennis, archery, softball, field hockey, and basketball. Meetings are held on Wednesday afternoons under the leadership of Pat Teichmann, president; Wanda Manning, vice president; Blodwen Roberts, secretary; Carley Nickel and Ruth Anne Conner, senators; and Mrs. Sheehan, sponsor.

One of Central's newest organizations, the Red Feathers, was founded in 1940 as an all-girls' pep squad. These girls can be seen at each of Central's games in their flashy red skirts and cream jackets cheering Central's teams on to victory.

President Jewell Forrester has presided over the club meetings each Thursday. Vice President Barbara Baker has assisted Jewell in her duties, while Secretary Dorothe Moore has kept the roll book. Collecting assessments and balancing the books has been the work of Treasurer Lucille Adams, and Sergeants-at-arms Dorothy Caldwell and Ruth Irving, have kept order during heated discussions. Dorothy Reid and Clara Jameson have represented their club in the Senate. Miss Ruth Holton is the sponsor.

Strengthening school spirit has been the main task undertaken by the Red Feathers, and this has been successfully accomplished.

Scalpers

Here is an organization that has put new life into the old stompin' grounds. The Scalpers, working hand in hand with the Red Feathers, the girls' pep club, have given plenty of support to our school. The two organizations added color to the all-school parade and to the coronation of Miss Tulsa High XXI.

Although essentially a service organization, the Scalpers maintain rituals and traditions. Among the traditions are the challenges with Rogers and Webster and the ceremonies used to initiate the new members.

The Scalpers had a brand new sponsor this year, Mr. Harold L. Wright. Under his expert guidance and with Bill Tooke, Paul Thornburg, Bat Shunatona, Jack Osborn, Bob Donnelly, Bill Cardin, and Dick McKirahan as officers, the boys have climbed to an even greater prominence in school activities.

Scalpers

With characteristic vim, vigor, and vitality the red-shirted Scalpers meet in the north auditorium on alternate Wednesdays. At these meetings Scalper President, Bill Tooke, often wishes, as he tries to get order, that the Scalpers didn't have quite so much of their far-famed pep.

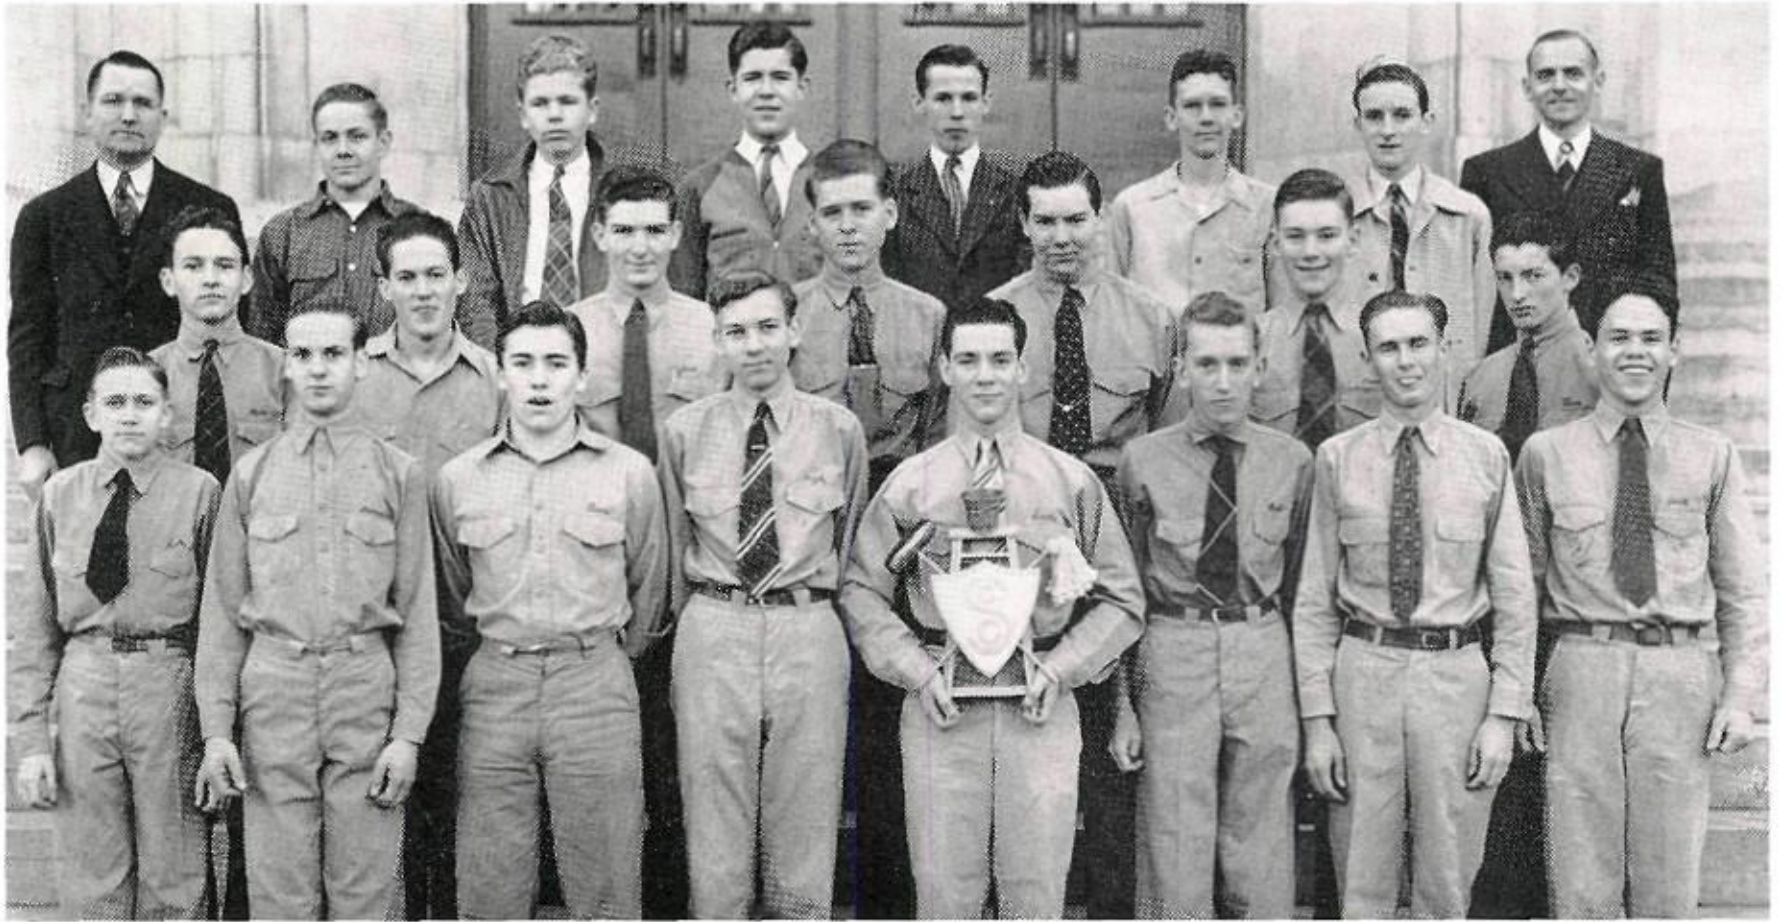

The scarlet shirts are to be seen at all school functions. With genuine enthusiasm the boys have supported all the Braves' teams. Known for lusty cheering and good times, the Scalpers are seldom thought of as a serious organization. Yet they are constantly busy serving the school as ushers at school plays, guides at the annual P.-T. A. reception, and in meeting visiting teams at the train.

With the upstanding support of this organization, all members learn the meaning of sportsmanship, a quality needed in taking the hard knocks of adulthood.

Student Custodians

One of Central's oldest organizations is the Student Custodians' Club, whose members, under the supervision of Mr.

Earl Sanders, keep the halls and class rooms neat, clean, and healthy. Striving to gain points awarded to them on the basis of their daily work, the boys make lasting friendships among their fellow workers. A monitor is in charge of each floor, and the boys say he does everything in his power to locate errors in their work and thereby decrease their points on the weekly progress chart.

At their annual banquet a gold loving cup is given to the best all around member with the highest number of points. These ambitious boys this year were led by Sam McCollum who presided at the semi-monthly meetings in which their work and social activities were planned.

Stagecraft

Without the stagecraft crew, the plays, the Daze, and the assembly programs would be as nothing, for this hard working group of boys, under the instruction of Mr. Martin, provides those beautiful backdrops and spiral staircases that appear on our stage to make the entertainments scenic. The aim of this organization is to promote greater cooperation with others and efficiency in doing assigned jobs.

With Leon Rolen leading them as superintendent, the boys display their ability to present colorful stage settings. Each boy has a certain department to look after. Vernor Rodgers manages the electricity; Harold White takes care of the props; Arles Barrett supervises the scenery.

These boys with their assistants are an excellent example of willingness to work together, to do a job right, and to build better backdrops for the future.

Central Band

Under the direction of Mr. Gates, the band has appeared many times on school programs, at athletic events, civic and public concerts, parades, and conventions. Bill Bearden, captain, with the assistance of Billy Dean, lieutenant, and Art Buhl, top sergeant, has helped to make the band an outstanding service organization.

In addition to their musical work, the band each year has two picnics and a banquet and dance held in conjunction with the orchestra each May.

The eighty-four members of the band made their annual public concert for the community at large an unusual success. The ticket campaign organized for the concert provided work and pleasure for all its participants.

Officers in charge of each band section were: Jack Brannon, bass sergeant; Bob Hensley, big reed sergeant; Dick Britton, horn and cornet sergeant; Sam McCollum, drum sergeant; and Kenneth Rathman, clarinet sergeant.

Bob Huff and Bob Evans were senators, and Richard Staines has been librarian.

Opera Club

A SCENE TAKEN FROM THE FINALE AT THE END OF THE FIRST ACT IN THE OPERETTA
"KATINKA" IN WHICH HOPPER RESCUES BEAUTIFUL KATINKA
FROM THE CLUTCHES OF THE EVIL BORIS

This year the club, directed by Mr. Gerald Whitney, presented one of Central's real stage hits when they gave Rudolf Friml's operetta "Katinka." With Marcia Moran in the title role and Bill Sheehan playing the part of her true lover, the members of the Opera club convinced Centralites of their operatic abilities. Billie Joe Nichols and Paul Watkins furnished the comedy in the operetta by appearing in the roles of Harem Warden and the American tourist, Mr. Hopper.

Katherine and Mildred Brown directed the operetta's dance choruses, and, in addition, they entertained the audience with two outstanding duets. This operetta was the first one ever to be given at Central having more than two different sets.

The colorful costumes, the beautiful scenery, and the excellent singing will long be remembered by those who saw and enjoyed the operetta.

Opera Club

FIRST Row—Katherine Brown, Bob Kenslow, Dan Dean, Betty Mae Smith, Paul Watkins, Marcia Moran, Bill Sheehan, Joan Ninde, Lane Hammack, Marjorie Maines, Chuck Nelson, Ruby Highfill, Mildred Brown. SECOND Row—Jean Henshaw, Betty Jean Williams, Yvonne Grissette, Patricia Ball, Mildred Henderson, Gretel Bloesch, Betty Swan, Annie Atkins, Peggy O'Bannon, Wanda Lee Emanuel, Crocha Kudlemeyer, Lila Long, Miss Frances Wellmon Anderson, Mr. Gerald Whitney. THIRD Row—Betty Winkler, Vivian Neighbors, Joan Milnes, Frances Rasmussen, Ann Yetter, Jeane Smith, Norma McMillan. FOURTH Row—Jack Clinkscales, Edward Moores, Lee Simmons, Margaret Stanley, Mary Rose Ragland, Louise Finkbiner, Dixie Davis, Barbara Thee, Nanon Peabody, Rosie Ketchum, Andrealee Anderson, Arleene Hill, Ettamay Avery. FIFTH Row—Lonnie Pence, Kenneth Brandes, Edward Brown, Bob Putter, Billie Joe Nichols, Jack Brummett, Tom Davis, Morris Neighbors, Charles Margolin.

The Opera club gives talented Centralites a chance to use and develop their abilities. This year members of the club have made appearances on many programs and have furnished entertainment for district teachers' meetings and meetings of civic organizations. These appearances have given Opera clubbers, who would rather sing than eat, a chance to prove that they make up one of Central's most important organizations.

Billie Joe Nichols has served a very successful year as president, and when Billie Joe was absent, capable Dan Dean took over. Betty Swan has shown, through her accuracy in checking the roll and keeping track of the money in the treasury, that she was a well selected secretary-treasurer. The year the librarians elected to serve the club were Norma McMillan and Paul Watkins.

Orchestra

Central's orchestra endeavors to create a deeper and more intelligent appreciation of good music, to afford its members advanced musical training, and to be of genuine service to the school.

The orchestra is a complete symphonic group, both as to instrumentation and as to excellency of performance. Central's orchestra provides an opportunity for students planning to make music their vocation upon graduation, and for students taking music as a major in high school for their personal pleasure and interest.

Orchestra

Mr. Gates has done his best to keep the orchestra at the highest point of perfection. The very excellent performances turned in this year by the orchestra have proved that his efforts were not in vain. The group has played for radio broadcasts, assembly programs, plays, and the concert.

The officers of the orchestra have been Bill Burkitt, president; Beverly Conn, vice president; Catherine Scott, secretary; Kelly Barton, treasurer; Charles Brown, librarian, and Bill Dean and Art Buhl, senators.

Saint Cecilians

This cheerful group is made of interesting and interested girls who love to sing. Sponsored by Mr. Gerald Whitney and headed by Joan Knollenberg and her able assistant Julia Fleming, the St. Cecilians have completed another successful year at Central.

This active organization has been presented in assembly programs, radio broadcasts, and has appeared before many Tulsa civic clubs. The annual spring recital was more than worthy of all the praise it received.

Betty White this year did double duty as secretary and treasurer. Betty Mae Smith and Virginia Litchford were in charge of the St. Cecilians' library. The chorus was represented by Sarabeth Webb and Dollie Curtis in the Senate. Triumphant over many difficulties, the St. Cecilians did much toward keeping the morale of Centralites high.

The Camarata Club is a comradeship organization. The forty junior and senior girls who make up the membership, are genuinely concerned about the underprivileged students in our school. The purpose of the club is to promote interest in social welfare and to educate its members for intelligent citizen participation in social welfare programs.

With Judy Gardner leading them, the girls in their bright red jackets are a familiar and pleasing sight in our school. Their annual Christmas card sale for student aid is the most successful project during the school year. With this aid from the Camaratas, help is extended to those in our school who need it. This shows the feeling of cooperation and willingness to help others that is so important in the scheme of things today.

A Cappella Choir

Under the leadership of Mr. Gerald Whitney, Central's A Cappella Choir is one of the hardest working organizations of the entire school. This singing group has made itself famous through entertaining Tulsa civic groups, performing for other schools, and participating in our own student activities.

To attempt to instill in others a deeper appreciation of the harmony of mixed voices, and to improve their own vocal ability and musicianship is the aim of this group which contributes greatly to the cultural background of Central's students.

Bill Cardin has been the head of this organization with Kenneth Addison ready to take over in any emergency. Emmagrace McHugh has had charge of the roll and the books while Mike Johnson and Bill Richards have kept the music library in order. Senators Mary K. Williams and Evan McElhany have done their best to represent the choir in the Senate meetings.

Centralites always welcome the sight of the maroon robes, and this year more than ever the A Cappella Choir has given many outstanding performances on our stage.

Lettermen

This group was organized in September, 1925, by Mr. E. W. Rau as the Boys' Athletic Council. The Letterman's Athletic Association was organized to take the place of this council in 1930. Only boys who have distinguished themselves by winning an athletic T are eligible for membership.

In their meetings on alternate Thursdays, presided over by President Tom Miller and Vice President Bob Catching, these boys discuss athletic problems. When the discussions are over, Secretary Paul Annex settles himself to enjoy the varied entertainments that are provided. These handsome huskies are represented in the Senate by Fred Whitaker and Al Price.

The aims of this organization are to assist in the athletic program, to promote fellowship among the lettermen, and to encourage good sportsmanship, school spirit, and loyalty.

Tom Tom

Those people with worried expressions and pencils in hand you've seen scattered over the building first hour every morning this year were surely members of the Tom Tom staff. This year the editorial staff, headed by Helen Kilgore and Shirley Hawthorn, and guided by Mr. T. W. Coover, has done its best to put out a book worthy of Central. The members of the art staff, under the direction of Miss Lucile Adams and Mary Ellen Kerr, art editor, are rightfully proud of the work they've done, and now, after meeting all the deadlines, everyone is relaxed.

Although it's real work, there's nothing a member of the Tom Tom staff likes better than to compose text, schedule and sort pictures, or plan lay-outs. Once a Tom Tommer has started something, there's no stopping him.

Tulsa School Life

The Tulsa School Life is the only publication of its kind in the United States, as it is published through the cooperation of the three high schools of Tulsa: Central, Will Rogers, and Webster. It is very ably sponsored by Miss Anna Crotchett with Mary Katharine Winn, Central's editor, doing a very thorough job of putting out the School Life.

If you should happen into room 120A any day of the week you would find the would-be reporters, who make up the School Life Staff, getting interviews, typing stories, checking copy, reading proof, selling ads and tracking down clues that may lead to a twelve-inch column story on the first page. The School Life has won many honors which have contributed to the good standing of the three high schools of Tulsa.

Alpha Keystoneers

With President Mahala Young calling meetings to order every Tuesday night, Secretary Betty Daugherty taking the roll and reading the minutes, and Treasurer Margaret Frommel frantically calling for dues, the Alpha Keystoneer chapter is under way.

The Alphas enjoy some of the most interesting speakers of Tulsa, due to the initiative of Program Chairman Connie Cook. These varied programs increase the interest of the sixty members in the activities in Alpha. Some of the speakers that will always be remembered are Mary Kimbrough from the Tribune and Robert Gorby who cut Mary Kate Roark's hair without making it an inch shorter.

The Alpha chapter of Keystoneers is one of the largest and most active. Because it is such an ideal organization, it has a membership waiting list.

Alpha Keystoners

Alpha's social calendar boasts of a scheduled party for each month of the school year. Included in these parties planned by Social Chairman Ann Herick were two chili suppers, a Hallowe'en cooty party, a slumber party, a Valentine party, a Pot Luck supper, and the annual spring picnic.

This year Alpha cooperated with the other Hi-Y and Keystoner chapters by sending Judy Gardner as Alpha's candidate for queen of Delta's carnival, choosing models to represent Alpha in Beta's fashion show, and serving at a Triangle Hi-Y chili supper.

The project adopted this year was the collection of toys for the children at Hillcrest Memorial Hospital to be distributed by members of the Junior Auxiliary. This collection was very ably assembled by Vice President Helen Kilgore.

Beta Keystoneers

Beta cabinet meetings were usually held the first Saturday of the month at the Brown-Dunkin Tearoom at 12:30 p. m. From these cabinet meetings came many of the ideas and plans for the entertainment and social work in which the Betas so eagerly participated.

In cooperation with the other Keystone chapters, the Beta girls took turns sending representatives to the Red Cross headquarters to work on Saturday mornings. Their annual project of entertaining small Mexican children at a Christmas party was a great success. With chili suppers, skating parties, football informals, teas, political rallies and campaigns, go-to-church Sundays, an Easter egg hunt, a fashion show, and those memorable days at camp, Beta Keystoneers participated in a year packed with useful activities which they will never forget.

Beta Keystoners

The Beta Keystoners have completed another outstanding year of work at the Y. M. C. A. Each Thursday at 7:30 p. m., when President Virginia Murray or Vice-president Letha Lee Cox called for order, and Secretary Peggy Kelley checked the roll, the Beta girls settled down for an evening of work and fun.

Their sponsor, Caroline Richardson, never failed to have a worthwhile project ready for consideration, and Allene Miller, social chairman was always ready to suggest a chili supper or skating party. The Betas have been entertained at their meetings by talent from their own chapter; they've had the art of beautiful flower arrangements demonstrated to them and have seen pictures of China.

These, and many other programs were scheduled by Peggy Gwinner, program chairman.

Delta Keystoneers

Delta Keystoneers, with their buffet suppers, picnics, spaghetti dinners, slumber parties, and their annual Mardi Gras carnival, have successfully completed their fourth year of existence. They have demonstrated their many abilities by co-operating with the other Keystoner and Hi-Y chapters in the planning of joint social activities, such as formal and informal dances, banquets, and training camps.

Under the leadership of Betty Erickson, president, and under the guidance of Doris Moody Fike, sponsor, the Deltas have spent a happy year helping with the Keystoner projects and having a good time; even now they are making plans for next year's activities.

The Deltas do their best to carry out the Keystoner motto; "To create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character."

Junior Senior Hi-Y

With Dick Brown as president and E. H. Trolinger as vice president, the Junior-Senior Hi-Y boys have completed a year of which to be proud. Their sponsor, Mr. Orrin Blanchard, along with the remaining officers of the chapter, Bill Dixon, Paul Percival, Jack Bridges, Bat Shunatona, Wayne Richison, and Hiram Burney, has done much to make this a useful year of work and pleasure.

The junior-senior boys, in addition to having a chili supper with the Betas, and a hayride with the Sigmas, participated in the membership drive, "Week of Prayer" broadcasts, and the go-to-church program. They should be commended for their activities in governing the city for a day. Through working with the other Hi-Y and Keystone chapters, the junior-seniors have learned the fundamentals of group cooperation and association.

Sigma Hi-Y

Every Monday night at 7:30 the Sigma Hi-Y's fill the lobby of the Y. M. C. A. and clamor for President Dick Mc-Kirahan to start the meeting. Vice-president Bill Cardin tries to get order so that Nick Mavris can check attendance. Jimmy Dwen collects much-needed dues, while Bob McFetridge tries to rustle up an appropriate program. Jimmie Ellison discusses plans for social activities, and Phil Adrean and Kenneth Addison strive to get the floor to report on their actions in the Senate.

These boys, with the assistance of their sponsor, Mr. William P. Robinson, completed successfully the tasks they began, whether it was a go-to-church campaign or a hayride. Through their membership in this group, the boys have gained mental and moral strength that will benefit them long after their Hi-Y days are over.

Triangle Hi-Y

Although the youngest Hi-Y group, the Triangle Hi-Y has the largest membership and has accomplished a great deal this year. Bill Bearden, president, and Roland H. Kirkley, sponsor, have proved themselves to be capable leaders.

The Triangle Hi-Y has, in addition to its social activities, cooperated with the other Hi-Y chapters in giving a party for prospective members and in attending the training camp. It joined with all the Hi-Y and Keystoner chapters in the daily radio broadcasts in cooperation with the Y.M.C.A.'s observation of the worldwide "Week-of-Prayer," in the go-to-church program, and in running the city for a day. The Triangle Hi-Y has helped to make the activities of the Hi-Y and Y.M.C.A. very successful this year.

International Club

In order to learn more about peoples and countries unfamiliar to them, the members of the International club study the governments and customs of other nations in their weekly meetings.

This year, led by the industrious president, Holice Hoshall and Mr. Richard Burkhardt, sponsor, the club has presented many well known Tulsa speakers and interesting movies showing life in foreign countries. Miss Nellie Bowman gave one of the best remembered talks of the year when she told the club about her experiences in Russia. The discussions that take place in the meetings give these interested students an opportunity to voice opinions on international affairs.

This year projects of the club have been the sale of candy each day after school in the north corridor and the sale of tickets to the T. C. T. A. lectures.

Tulsa Historical Society

The Tulsa Historical Society is the medium through which the classes in community history make their civic contributions. This is the fifth year that the organization has taken a part in the activities at Central.

The membership, though smaller than usual, has been outstanding in its work this year. Led by Sam McCollum as president, and Virginia Murray as secretary, members of this group have written articles which have been published in the local papers, and they have conducted a radio program in which every member took a part.

With the money received from the sale of over 2,000 post cards of Tulsa's oldest house, books were bought to help complete the library of reference books that is the pride of the society. Ten dollars of the money was contributed to the Red Cross.

Girl Reserves

As a junior member of the Y.W.C.A., the Girl Reserve club has come into its own and has become one of the most outstanding clubs of the year. Its social activities have become prominent in the minds of all high school students. The club has accomplished these things under the leadership of Mrs. Lucille Marquis and Miss Mary Kimbrough and Mary Lewis, president.

As a result of a membership drive, their enrollment has been increased from approximately thirty members to the present membership of fifty-three. Officers who have contributed their skills and personalities to promote the welfare of their club and to make the Girl Reserves known as one of Central's most worthwhile organizations are Melvine Jensen, vice president; Margaret Webb, secretary; Maxine Vassar, treasurer; and Ayvonne Allen, reporter.

The senior Girl Scouts have been busier this year than ever before, since, to their regular outdoor and social program, they have added social service work. The senior scouts throughout the city of Tulsa raised flowers to be given to the veteran soldiers at Easter.

The girls have knitted afghans, and made baby quilts and garments. The scouts had many laughs when they prepared and practiced telling children's stories and playing children's games on one another. But this story telling and game playing has a more serious side, for the scouts are preparing themselves to take charge of small children during air raids and evacuations, as the Girl Guides are doing in England.

Working for their senior Service Scout badge, the girls have carried out a program beneficial both to themselves and community.

Cooperative Distributive Training

Group 2. FIRST Row—Peggy Wood, Imogene Leatherwood, Christene Moran, Norma Chandler, Juanita Moss, Eunice Anderson, Dixie Dickenson, Juanita Phelps. SECOND Row—Mrs. Prosser, Coordinator; Mrs. Krider, Related English; Marthella Hughes, Alice Kymen, Lou Emma Lakey, Blanche Goodman, Mary Connelly, Irene Wayland, Beverly Crockett. THIRD Row—John Banfield, Marguerite Mace, Pawnee Wilson, Opal Jean Long, Ellynn Cotten, Ruby Alene Givens, Lou Howard, Billie Derrick.

The Distributive Training group at Central is composed of students who are planning a career in the selling world. These budding salesmen meet daily to discuss the various methods of selling and the problems which they encounter while working on a part-time basis.

Students who possess certain required personal and scholastic qualifications are placed, under direct supervision of the coordinator, in Tulsa stores where they receive practical training in actual selling experience.

The fundamental aim of the students of the distributive training is to prepare themselves through study, supervision and experience for full-time jobs in the distribution of commodities to consumers.

Industrial Cooperative Training

Group 1, FIRST ROW—Julius Chapin, Russell Chaney, Gordon Eakin, Bill Maxwell, Jack Neville, Leonard Wimmer, Raymond Dings, A. T. Taylor, David Jacobs. SECOND ROW—Bill Sumpter, Mickey Cochran, Lloyd Bicking, Arnold Wagoner, George Whitney, Frank Carr, John Carnahan, Bob Miles. THIRD ROW—Bob Robinson, Sonny Stefanoff, J. The Diversified Training group is made up of boys who take part in a co-operative plan of training for jobs in industry and business. The present program is divided into two divisions, the half-day-in and half-day-out group; and the two-week-in and two-week-out group. The employers are given the opportunity of choosing the plan which best meets their needs for their participation in the program.

The trainee or student has the advantage of getting an early start in the occupation or trade for which he desires to fit himself. He has an opportunity of overcoming or making adjustments to many of the difficulties one encounters on a first job experience.

Parent-Teachers Association Board

FIRST Row—Mrs. H. O. Hazen, Miss Joyce Saunders, Mrs. Lloyd G. Owen, Miss Gertrude Rector, Miss Ednamay Weeks, Mrs. Murray Womble. SECOND Row—Mr. Ward H. Green, Mrs. Frank E. Johnson, Mrs. R. V. The P.-T. A. board, composed of its officers, the chairmen of all the committees in the Parent-Teachers association, the Central high school principal, and the three class directors, functions to make plans for all the general meetings and to conduct the fall reception and the annual spring banquet.

On the yearly back-to-school night, utilized in order that parents may become acquainted with their children's work, the parents follow their boys' and girls' regular class schedules after an opening assembly. Here the parents meet the different teachers and learn the methods by which their children are taught.

To strengthen the relations of the parents, the teacher, and the student is the purpose of the board, and the programs are designed with this object in mind.

HER MAJESTY, LETHA LEE COX, MISS CENTRAL HIGH XXI

Senior Attendants

AVONNE FLEMING

MILDRED GOODRICH

HIS MAJESTY, GENE MERRELL, KING DAZE XVI

Senior Attendants

WALTER ROBBINS

Her majesty, Queen Letha Lee Cox and her attendants rules over the knights and ladies of the football realm and the sixteenth annual Daze in royal array. Central's royalty include Betty Ann Early, junior; Sara Lou Mills, sophomore; Mary Caroline Thrift, junior; Jane Simmons, junior; Pattye Williams, sophomore; Mildred Goodrich, senior; Queen Letha Lee, Avonne Fleming, senior; and Carol Jean Wilson, sophomore. A high point in splendor was reached in the 1942 Daze Militaire with such a court of beautiful girls.

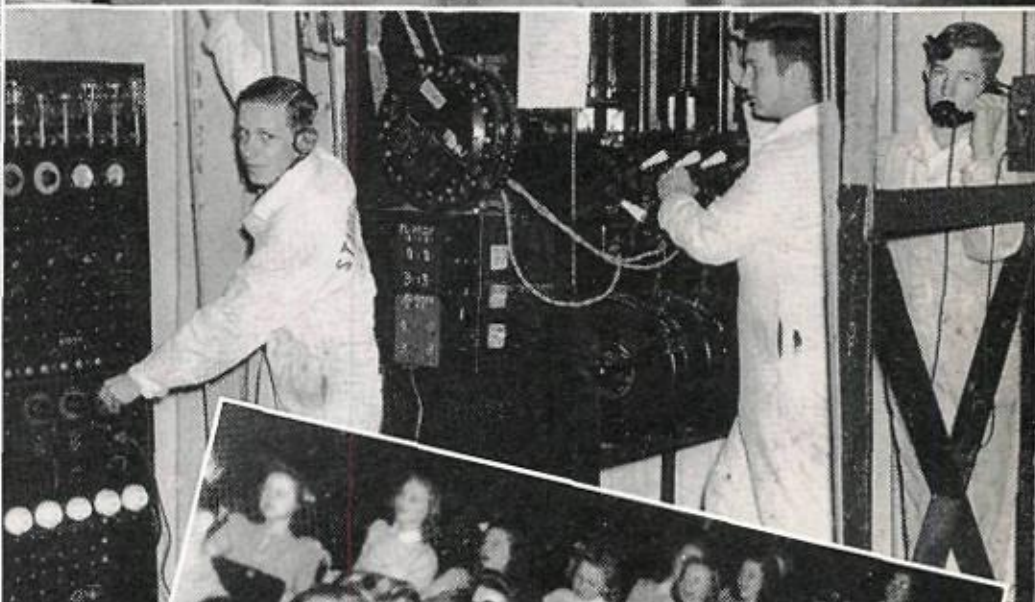

Suzanne Scruggs toeing the mark, holds that pose with a smile for the cameraman and the Daze Board. . . . Leatrice and Richard take their bow as the curtain falls on an act.

Kathryn, in shimmering silver, charms the Daze audience with grace and ability. . . . The Brown twins, Mildred and Katherine, make us see double as they entertain us once again with a dance for the Daze.

• The Daze at Central is the event on the year's calendar. . . . Suzanne works with the organist on the accompaniments. . . . Student chiefs, Bud Baker and Garvin Berry, collaborate on Daze Militaire continuity. . . . Elizabeth exhibits her talent in try-outs. . . . Stagecraft boys produce beautiful lighting effects. . . . President Johnson rehearses for the All American Daze. . . . Student judges view talent. . . . Centralites build scenery and props. . . . Chain gang members make a break in the All American Daze.

Remember the talking flash light, the glass material and all the other marvels of modern science, that General Motors brought to our assemblies? . . . And the war situation as Jenkin Lloyd Jones presented it?

Congratulations go to Shirley, president of the Senior Girls' League, and Hiram, president of the senior class, for winning the honor of attending the Dale Carnegie course.

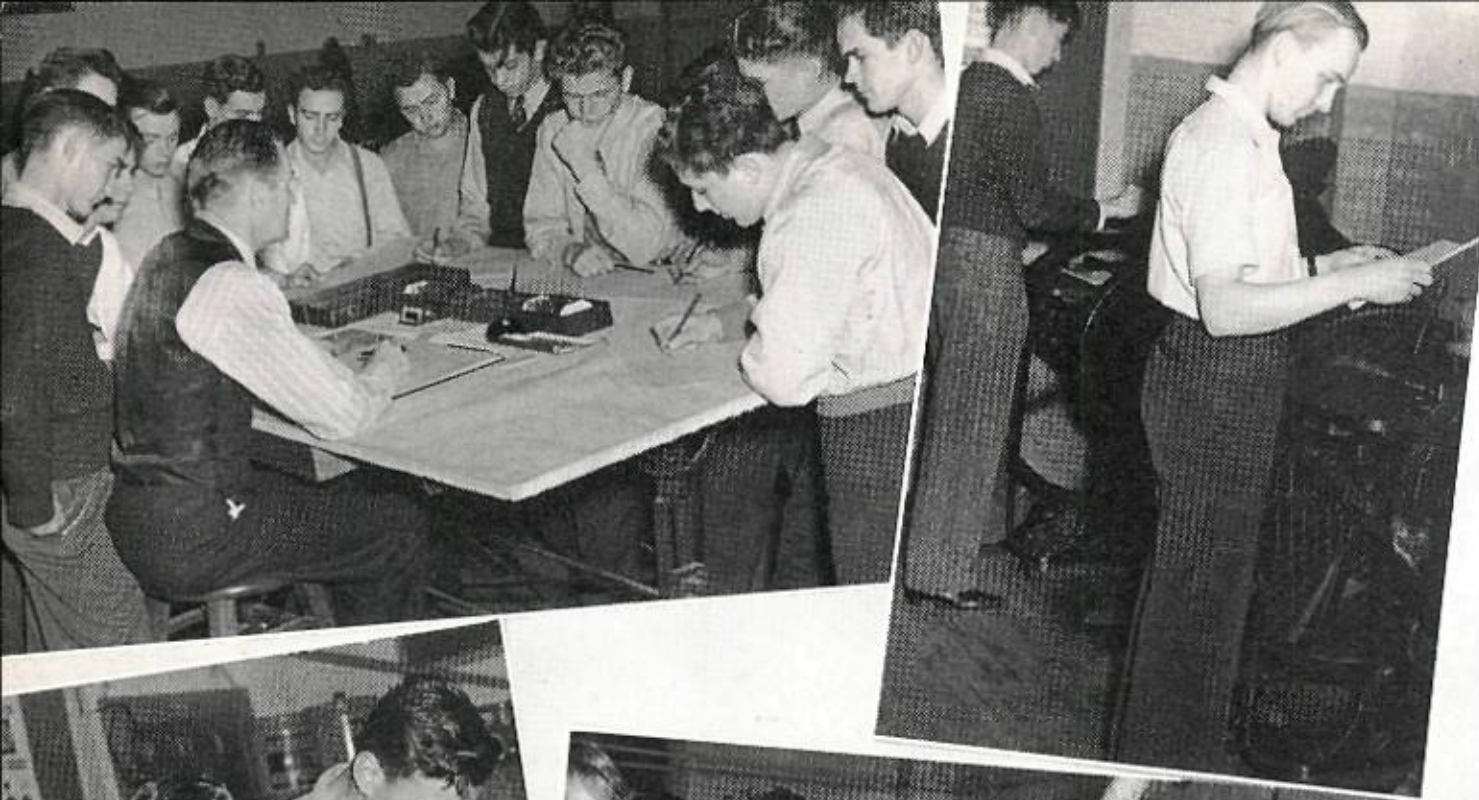

Sweet music filled the ears of Betty Stunkard's audience as she played the marimba in assembly. . . . Another one of those interesting assemblies was the one in which Acee Blue Eagle taught us Indian sign language.

Central's Assemblies

the week's highlight. . . . Letha receives the key to her kingdom. . . . A bust of Sequoyah was presented by the 1941 seniors. . . . Speech Arts class tells of an early Thanksgiving. . . . Central welcomes a former page in the House of Representatives. . . . Men who defend our country tell juniors to buy defense stamps. . . . William T. Calvert shows how Central can help in civilian defense. . . . Scalpers and Red Feathers are given front seats.

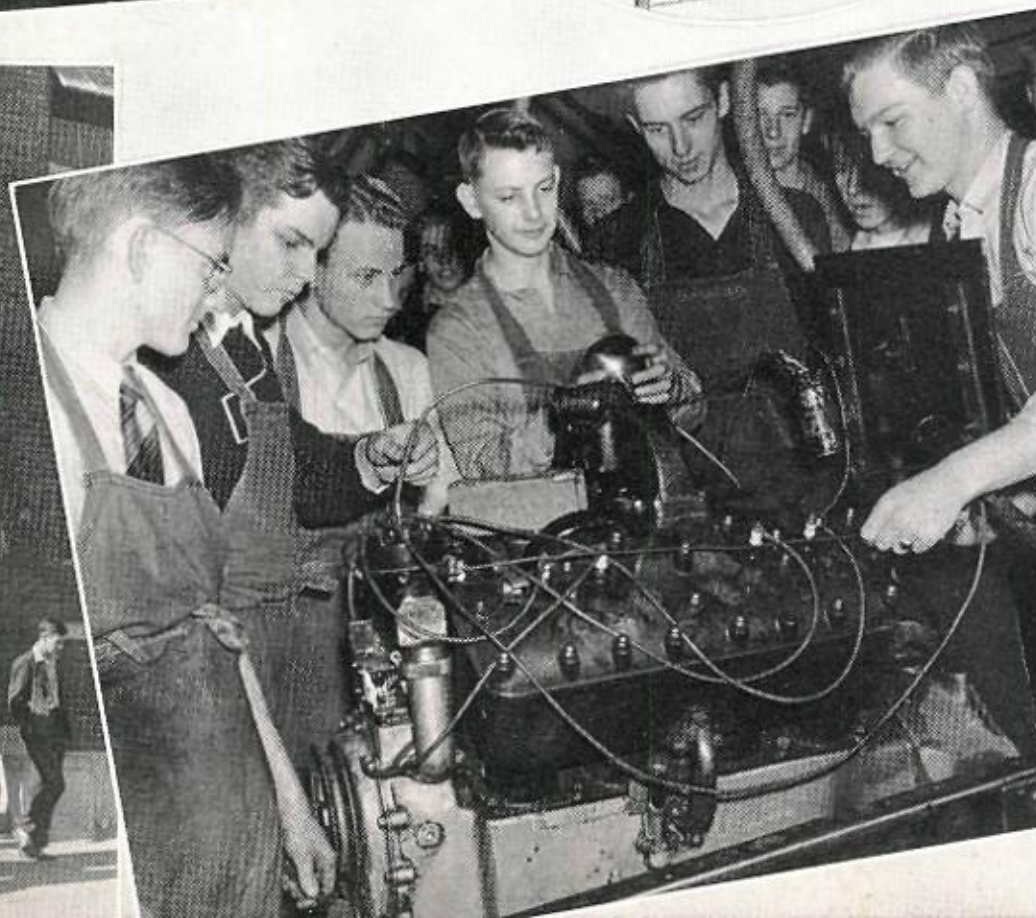

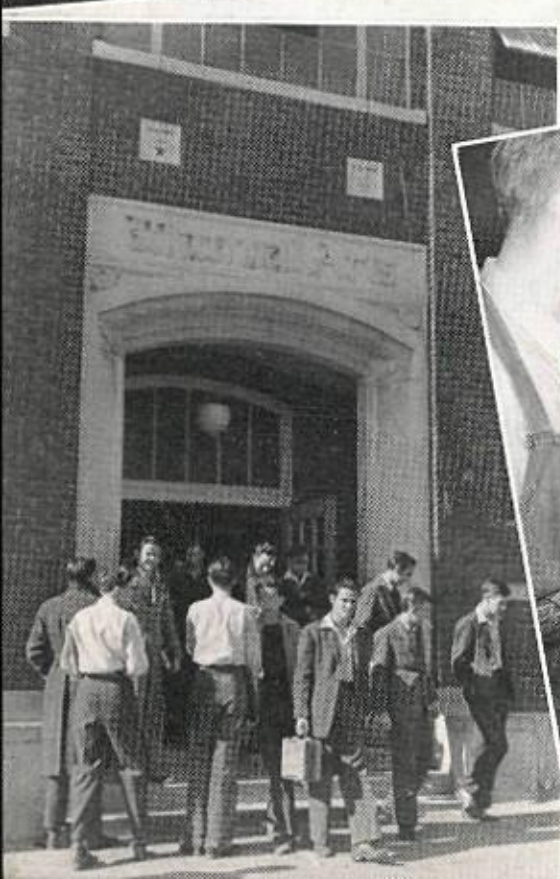

Mr. Orman checks up on his machine drafting class. . . . These future printers are gaining much valuable experience in advanced press work.

Machinists in third hour machine shop learn straight turning on a lathe. . . . Some of the boys pitch in to help Hugh make his pet engine run.

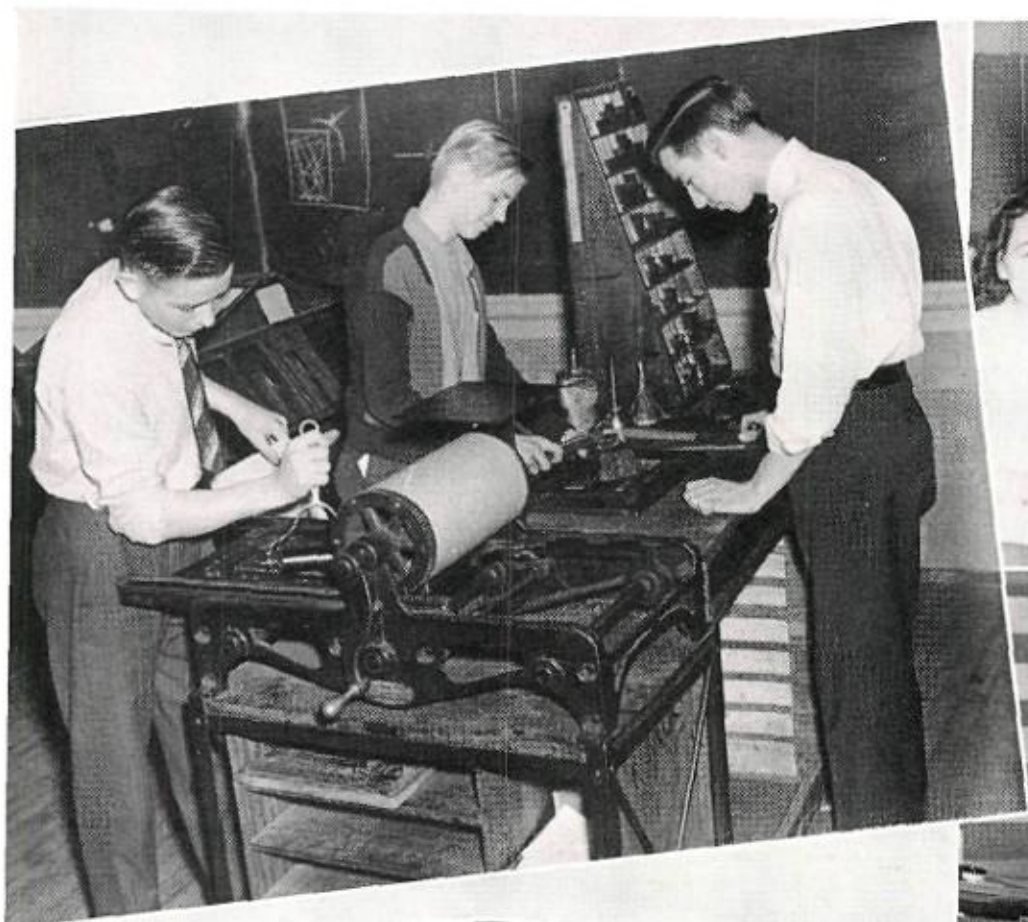

They learn to use a rip-saw, and keep all their fingers. . . . If you've ever had any experience in this work, you know this electricity concentration is shocking.

The doorway to practical uses for the learning gained in industrial training for Central's students. . . . In auto mechanics the boys not only learn to take it apart, but also how to put it back together.

Industrial Education

initial training for national strength, provides intriguing work for these boys in the proofing and stone work of general printing. . . . Lucky girls have their class in a building filled with boys. . . . They'll make it run or else. . . . Mr. Lulow's drafting class at work. . . . Models aid in studying physical problems of industry. . . . These boys learn to clean a carburetor. . . . These repaired toys made many children happy at Christmas. . . . Filing down a turning on a lathe.

"Robin Hood", the sophomores' first presentation, was quite a success. . . . Bill and Pat show their ability as actors by turning in a splendid performance in the first junior class play.

On KVOO day, Jack, Bill, and Annahlee proved that Central has some real talent. . . . Bill looks rather "down and out" after "a hard day at the office".

Bob Hower leads a double life in the seniors' production of "Death Takes a Holiday." . . . This is really something. We even had a dog in this play.

Commentator Bob Hower gives us the news of the day while Hiram Burney gets a few pointers on "the art of announcing". . . . "KVOO is now signing off" after a very successful day.

Radio Work and Plays

provide interesting extra-curricular activities for Central's students. . . . Ivanell and Clarence talk it over while Sammy looks on. . . . This musical interlude helped KVOO day along to success. . . . J. B. Lake and Howard Goldman traded places for KVOO day. . . . The hero and heroine of "Brewster's Millions" are overpowered. . . . The student announcers line up for last minute inspection. . . . Three cuties study their scripts for perfection.

Dick explains the urgency of the student Defense Stamp campaign while other members of the House of Representatives listen intently. . . . House President Luther gives out with an Ipana smile while Peggy, secretary, looks up to watch the reaction of the House.

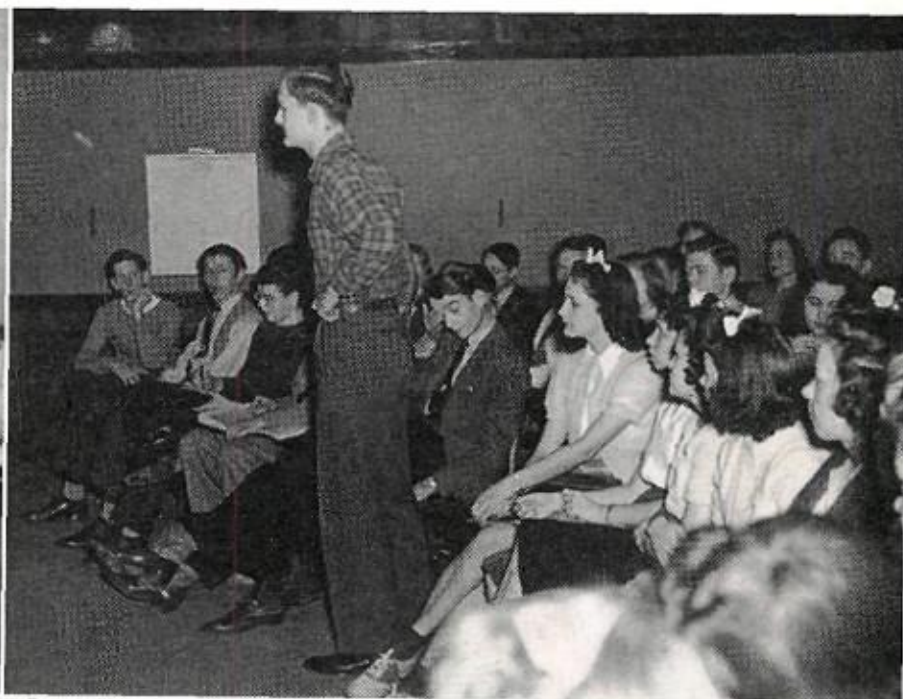

Senate President Bridges displays his oratorical abilities which keep Martha busy taking minutes. . . . Senior Prexy Hiram croons to what we hope is an attentive audience.

Patty campaigns successfully for sophomore queen's attendant. . . . Come on Bud, give Bobby a chance.

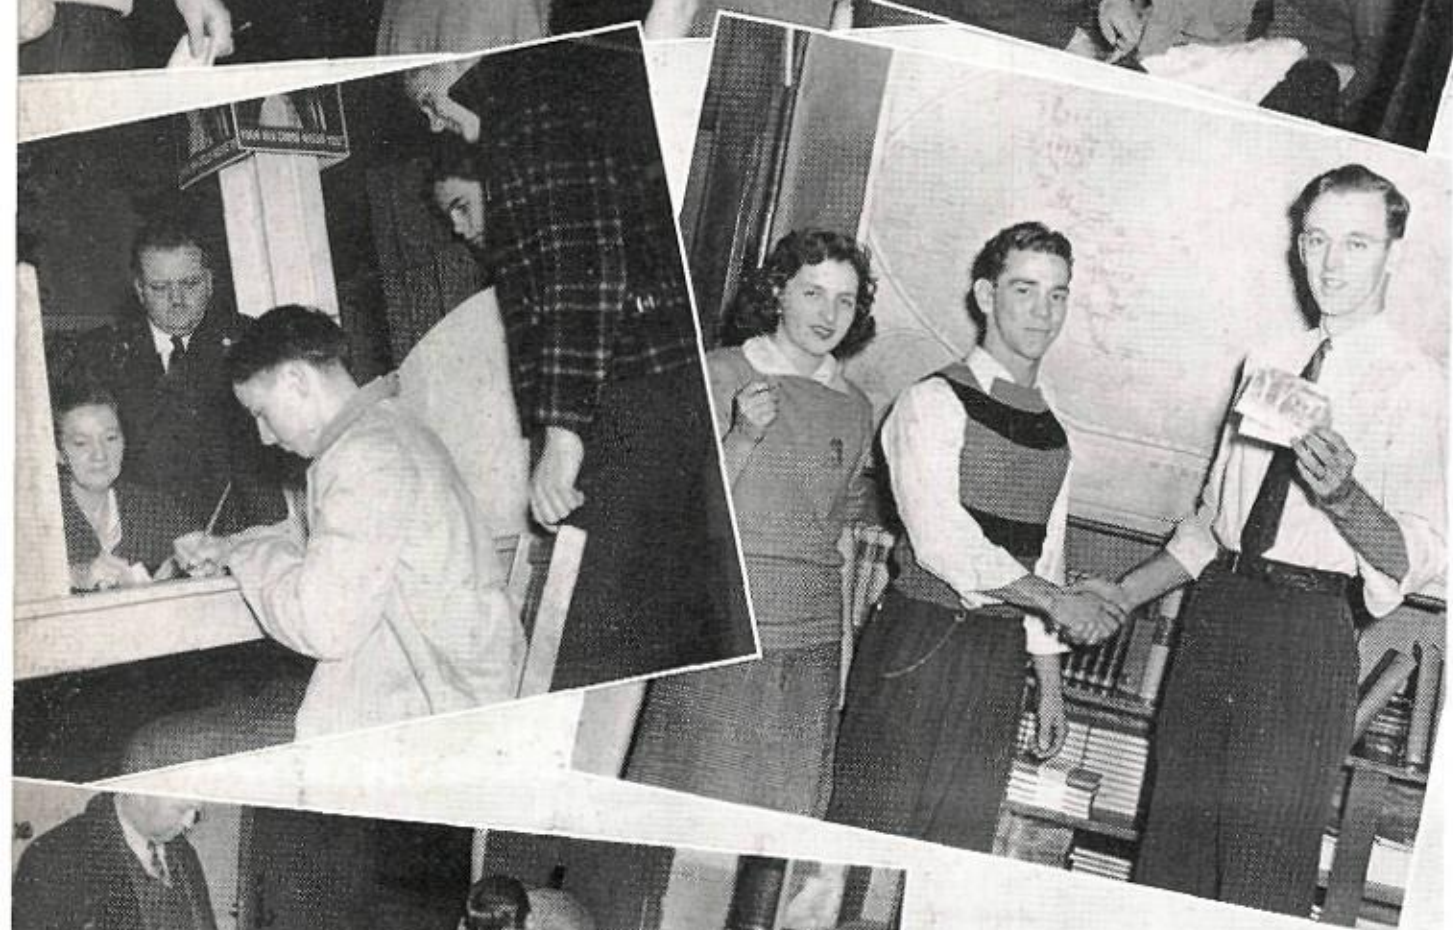

• In Student Government

Centralites utilize opportunities to work for the common good, and to develop personal abilities while practicing democracy. . . . It's an old Thursday custom in the House. . . . Filibuster Phil exemplifies his nickname. . . . Davy, you guessed it, signing "coke" bills. . . . Central's Inter-school Council members, Judy Gardner, Tom Moore, Bob Baker, and Luther White, put their heads together with members from Webster and Rogers. . . . S.A.S.G. delegates are "Memphis Bound". . . . Those opposed, same sign."

Home room 116 buys the defense stamp that made Central's stamp sales total $1,000. . . . Central turns out another successful community project, the annual clothes drive.

A Central student signs up for civilian defense under the watchful eye of Mr. Calvert. . . . Peggy and Sam thank Gene for purchasing the first Historical Society postcard.

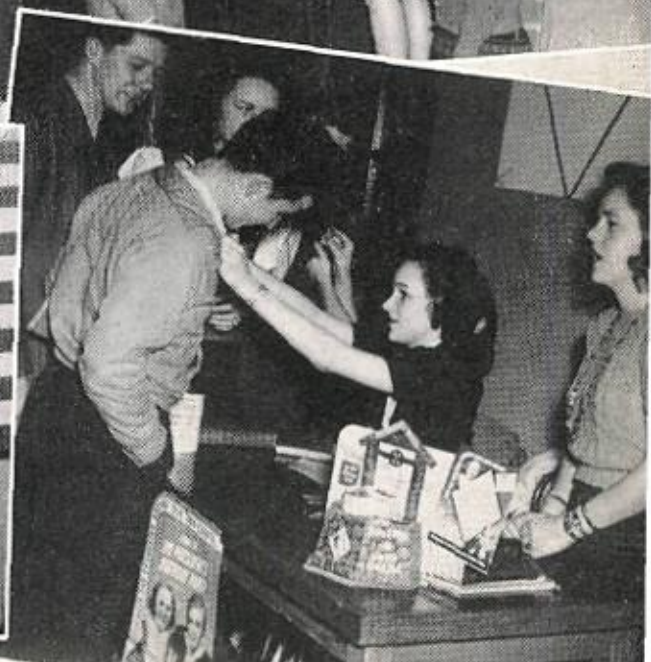

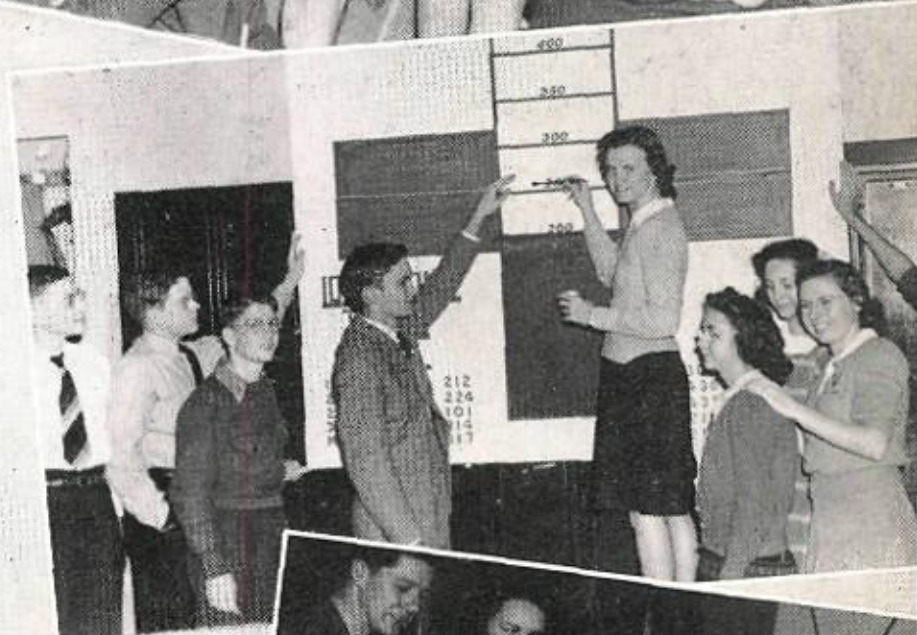

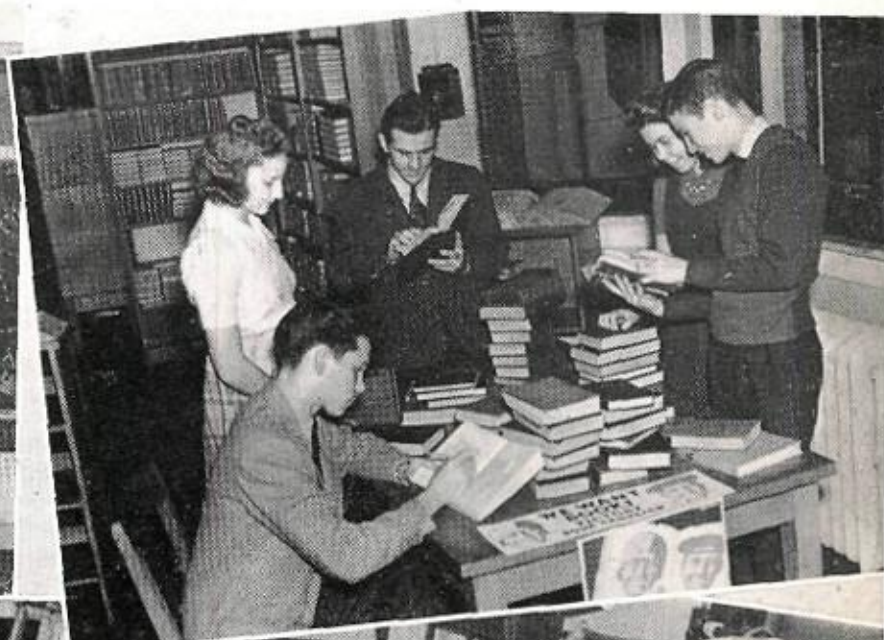

With "Be Prepared", the watchword, these boys learn to douse incendiary bombs. . . . "Watch that turn, Howard. Even with victory on board, those jeeps are tricky."

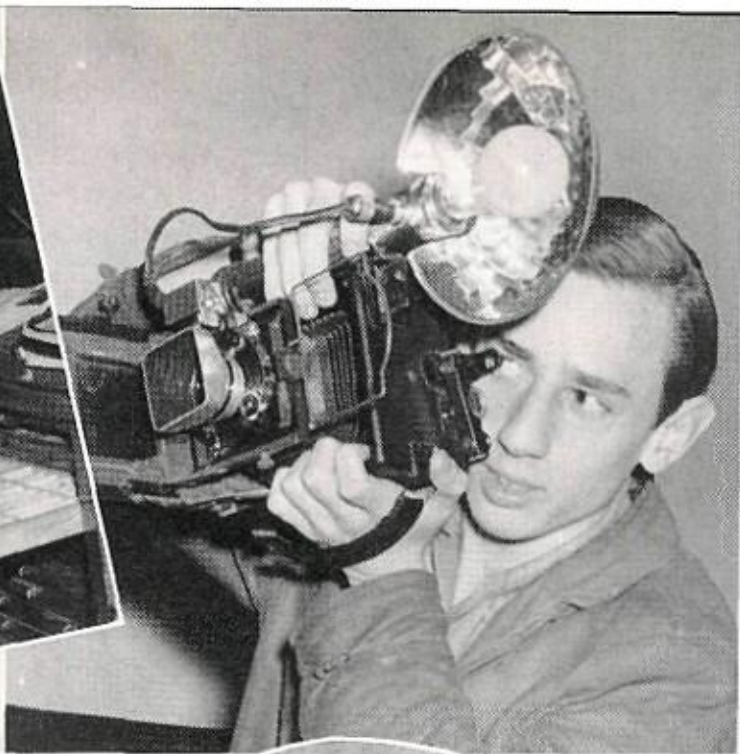

For contributing to the March of Dimes, Don received these pretty Girl Reserve smiles. . . . Central's P.-T. A. entertained the teachers at the annual "get acquainted" reception.

Community and Defense Projects become student activities as one class buys defense stamps with party money. . . . The victory book committee inspects the books for the soldiers. . . . Lieta checked the clothes during Friendship weeks. . . . These youthful volunteers smilingly aid the Red Cross. . . . The Medico club members paint the way toward their $500 quota. . . . Marilyn's contribution makes her a member. . . . Americans All and proud of our liberty. . . . After wishing in the "Wishing Well," Wayne is pinned.

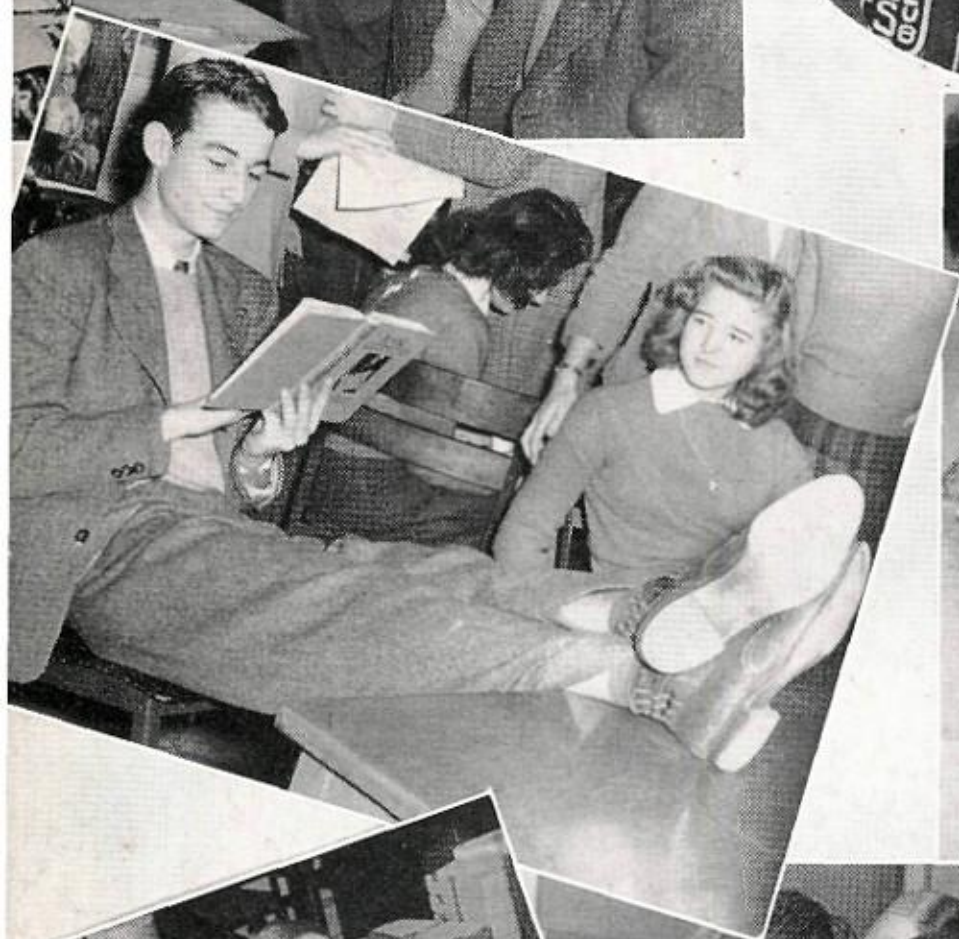

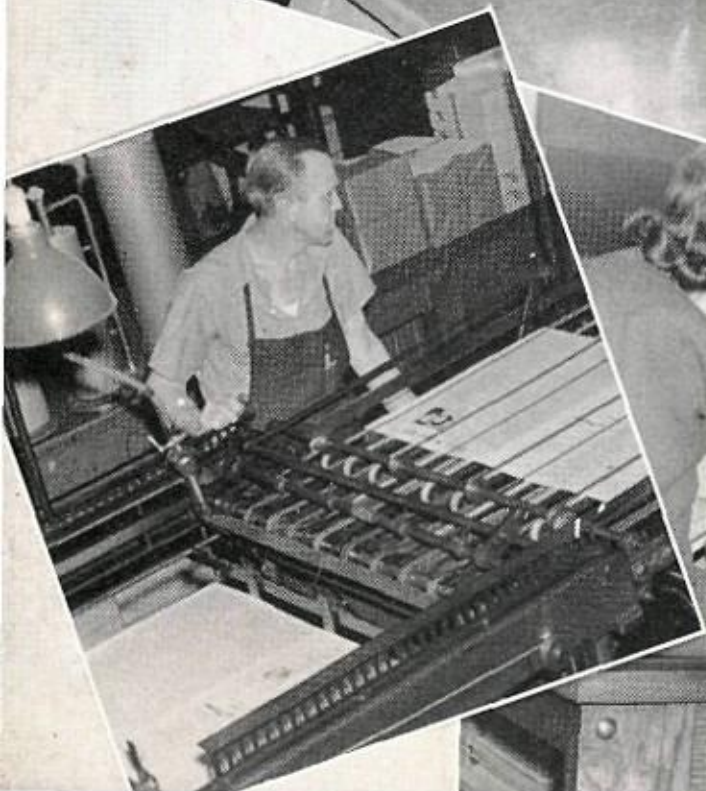

"Hurry, Jay, the School Life copy is ready for the press." . . . "Take careful aim, Fred, if it's for the Tom Tom it has to be good."

Jim gives Cliff some help with his House of Representatives column. . . . The look of woe on Wesley's face was probably brought on because he's out of flash bulbs again.

While taking the "pause that refreshes," Joellen gives her fellow worker the eye. . . . Helen and Ruth get together to check and double check names for the Tom Tom.

Mr. Parker Holland starts the presses rolling for another edition of the School Life. . . . Miss Crotchett does her bit in the press room by supervising the type setting.

• Publication Workers

cooperate to get the news to Centralites. . . . "Beware, Suzie, those Chemistry club members might blow you up." . . . Approving smiles for the Tom Tom pictures. . . . A crucial moment in every senior's life, signing his Tom Tom picture. . . . Bob, the linotype operator, is a valuable aid to all school publications. . . . Three hits catch a miss in School Life copy. . . . "Frankly, Ann, I like this cover." . . . Thursday morning handout.

• • • • •

"Watch out everyone! Tom Miller is learning to drive his new red convertible. Where's your driver's license, Tom?" . . . With that angelic look on his face, all C. O. Roberts needs is a halo.

Who would ever think that Johnny Burris once wore a hotel towel for a skirt? . . . "My goodness, Jean Marie Walker, how you have changed."

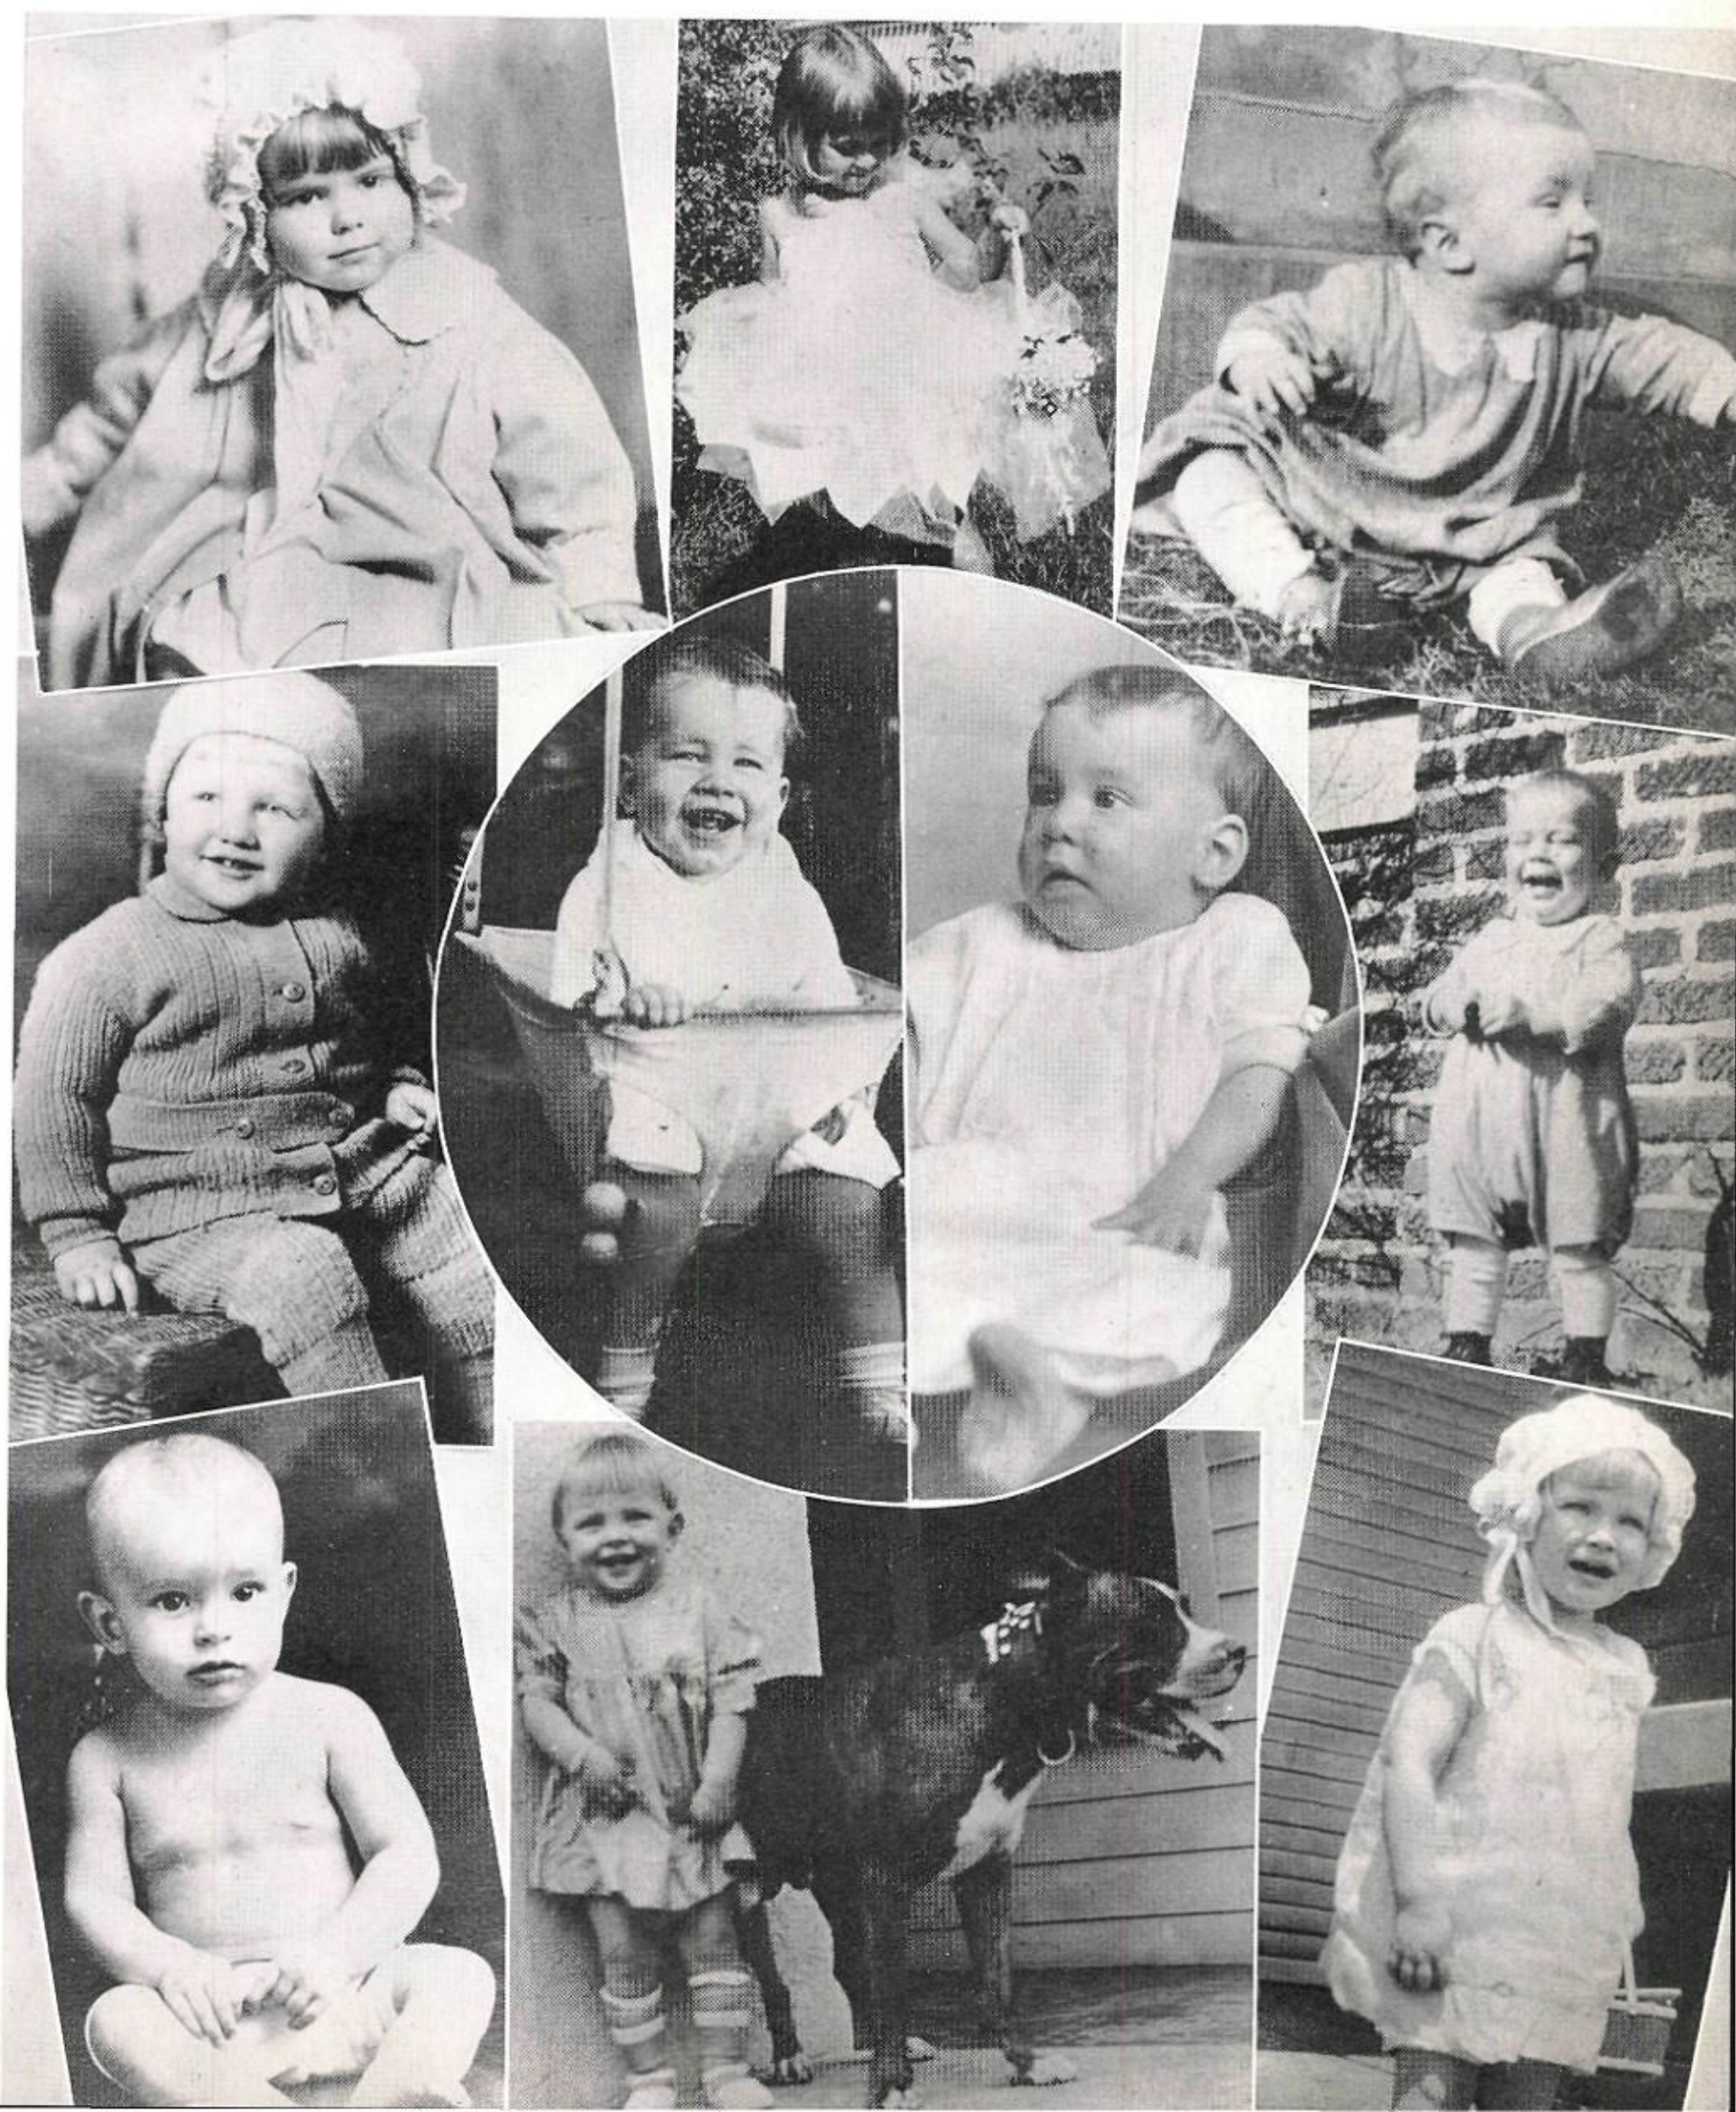

Hughie Klein—Innocence personified. . . . Kathryn Miller looks as if her mud pie business has recently fallen off. . . . What a hit Bob Catching would make today if he wore short pants.—Wow!

Peggy Zinn with that far away look in her eyes. . . . "Well, Shirley Hawthorn, aren't you a little young to be holding hands?" . . . "Letha Lee Cox, you great big beautiful doll."

• Some Babes, Our Seniors

"Where are you going, Mildred Goodrich?" . . . "Were you May queen, Virginia Murray?" . . . Jack Bridges with that boarding house reach. . . . "Think you could chew bubble gum with that new tooth, Luther White?" . . . "Happy landing, Dick Brown." . . . I dream of Jeannie (Harrington) with the dark brown eyes. . . . "Something funny, Bill Hawk?" . . . "What's so amazing, Bob Huff?" . . . That's Avonne Flemming on the left. . . . Who took Holice Hoshall's candy?

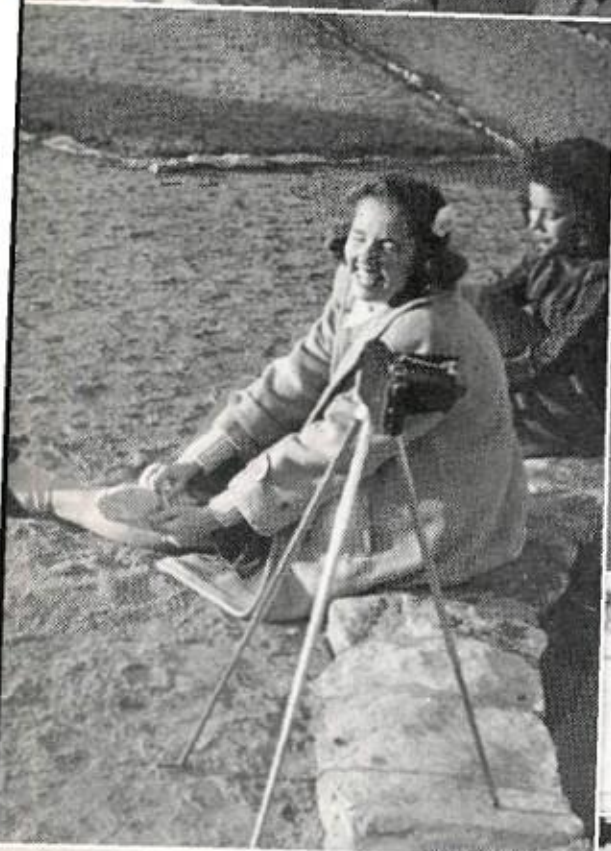

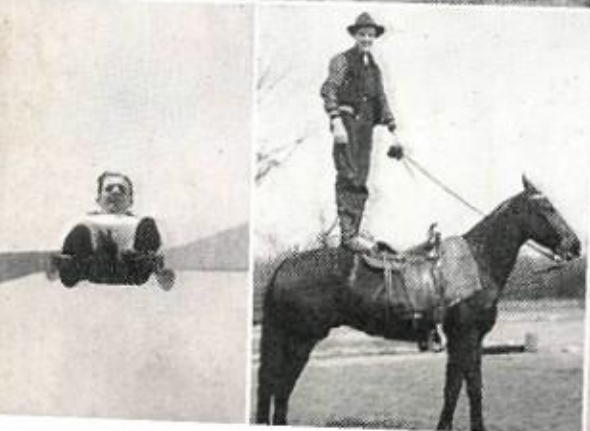

That leatherwork looks like a man's job, but it seems that Virginia does it very nicely. . . . Betcha Art has method in his madness with his drums—think so? Say, Dick, that looks different—Mr. Boatman finds the "birdie."

Recording is a very interesting pastime, at least Ed and Raymond seem to think so. . . . Gib Layton looks as though he's doing his part to "Keep 'em flying," sounds like a very interesting hobby—Gib.

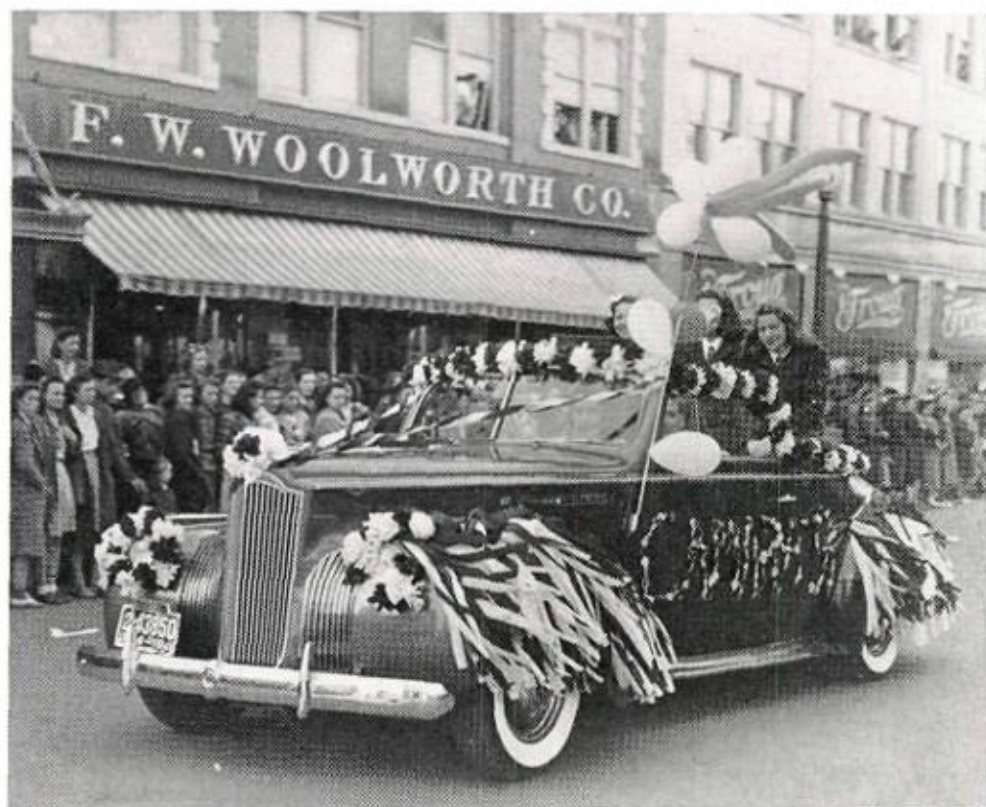

It looks as if Nanon and Sylvia have deserted their camera to go wading. . . . People have the strangest pastimes, for instance Arnol Sellers, flying airplanes in bed. . . . Fishermen three, what luck?

We've been told that Evan McElhaney is up twenty feet in the air and, incidentally he has to climb on a garage to get on the stilts—what some people won't do for a hobby. . . . C. O. will be ready when the circus comes to town. . . . But for size, you'd never know his models from the real thing.

• Hobbies and Parades provide outlets for those who work for inner pleasure and for those who like display. . . . Balloons add a festive note to the Camarata Car. . . . The Juniors carry out their class colors in decorating their car for the all school parade. . . . Some convertible the Speakers Bureau is sporting! . . . "Strike up the Band" and watch him strut! . . . Ellen and Virginia discuss the route the Delta Keystoneers will take. . . . "Remember, Opera club members, a stitch in time saves nine."

Ingenuity and Enthusiasm . . .

are displayed as the Cooperative training boys work even while on parade. . . . The Junior Girls' league make a good start in the all-school parade. . . . Hats off, fellas, to Queen Letha Lee and her royal attendants. . . . The Scalpers show how it's done when it comes to decorations. . . . School Life "scoop-ers" leave their work to do some parading. . . . Kathryn and Sudee lead the way for the Safety Club car.

Dear Dave
 you're a mighty fine
 kid, lots of fun in the future live

With thy vision light our eyes,
 Show thy heights above,
 Grant us wisdom, thou art wise,
 Teach us thy great love
 Consecrate our aim sincere
 Cleanse each inmost soul
 Great Spirit, be thou near Distant shines the goal

For the beauty through each day
 Joy and friendship true
 Gifts of thine along the way
 Hear our thanks anew
 When we gain the farthest height
 By thy wisdom taught
 We shall find thee, truth and light
 Thou art all we sought

David
 you are a swell kid and I love to know you - a car lover
 you'll get far

When one considers the constant flow of strength which comes from our nation's schools, it may become apparent that Central, as a leader among schools, has become a strong factor in answering the call of America.

As the Tom Tom Editorial Staff of 1942, it has been our aim to show that Central in many ways generates Strength for the Future, to the end that her students may be finer persons in a greater nation. For the assistance given in accomplishing this purpose, we, the members, wish to express our sincere appreciation.

To the Board of Education, for making possible the publication of this book; to Miss Alphild Larson and the assembly program committee for the Tom Tom assembly; to Miss Lulu B. Beckington and the senior class; to all those persons in the Board of Education Print Shop who have given so generously of their time and interest; to Mrs. Margaret Grebing, without whose timely assistance many of Tom Tom's records would be inadequate; to James Holder, for information about the department of boys' physical education activities; to the administration and to all departments of the high school for their encouragement and suggestions—to all these people the Tom Tom staff owes a debt of gratitude.
